APPENDIX A - List of Definitions

Definitions

Active [prevention strategy status]: A prevention strategy is considered "active" if any part of the strategy was implemented at any point in time during the reporting period.

Alternatives: Alternatives refers to prevention strategies that provide opportunities for populations of focus to participate in activities that exclude alcohol and other drugs. The purpose is to discourage use of alcohol and other drugs by providing alternative, healthy activities.

Assessment: Assessment is the first step in the Strategic Prevention Framework (SPF) process and helps prevention planners understand prevention needs for the population of focus based on a careful review of data gathered from a variety of sources. Specifically, assessment involves collection and analysis of available data sources to identify substance misuse consumption patterns, related consequences, and risk and protective factors impacting the population of focus. A comprehensive assessment also involves the examination of available resources to identify gaps, examines readiness to address problems identified, and prioritizes problems based on specific criteria (e.g., magnitude, trends, severity). See A Guide to SAMHSA's Strategic Prevention Framework for more details. Also, see definition for needs assessment.

Community-defined evidence practice(s): Community-defined evidence practices are practices that communities have shown to yield positive results as determined by community consensus over time, and which may or may not have been measured empirically but have reached a level of acceptance by the community.

Direct/individual-based prevention efforts: Direct/individual-based prevention strategies or services directly delivered to individuals, either on a one- on-one basis or in a group format. Typically, service providers and participants are at the same location during the grant-funded prevention service encounter.

Disparities impact statement: SAMHSA requires all grant recipients, or grantees, to prepare the Disparity Impact Statement (DIS) as part of a data-driven, quality improvement approach to advance equity using grant programs. The DIS helps grantees identify underserved populations at risk of experiencing behavioral health disparities. The aim is to increase inclusion of underserved populations in SAMHSA-funded grants, achieve behavioral health equity for disparity-vulnerable populations, and help systems better meet the needs of these populations.

Evaluation: Evaluation is the fifth step in the SPF process and is about enhancing prevention practice. It is the systematic collection and analysis of information about prevention activities to reduce uncertainty, improve effectiveness, and facilitate decision-making. See A Guide to SAMHSA's Strategic Prevention Framework for more details.

Evaluation plan: An evaluation plan is a written document that describes how grant-funded prevention strategies will be assessed and establishes outcome and/or impact measures tied to the original problem that the grant-funded program plans to address.

Evaluation report: An evaluation report is a written document that summarizes the purpose, methodologies, findings, and conclusions of grantee evaluations efforts and offers recommendations for program improvements. As part of the findings section, the evaluation report should examine whether prevention activities were successful in achieving the grant program's goals and objectives as laid out in the evaluation plan. Ideally, evaluation reports should include both process and outcome evaluation.

Evidence-based practices, policies, and programs (EBPs): EBPs are prevention strategies that were reported as effective for your target substance and population of focus on a formal registry (e.g., federal, state, foundation) or in a published peer-reviewed journal article, were based on a documented theory of change, or were deemed effective by a panel of experts.

Evidence-informed prevention strategy: Evidence-informed prevention strategies are approaches or methods based in research, with demonstrated effectiveness in addressing a prevention priority, but are not considered an evidence-based practice, policy, or program (i.e., not listed in a registry of evidence-based practices, studied in a peer-reviewed journal article, based on a theory of change, or deemed effective by a panel of experts).

Federal fiscal year: Federal fiscal year (FY) is the annual period established for government accounting purposes. It begins on October 1 and ends on September 30 of the following year. For program monitoring purposes, the federal FY is further broken down into four quarters.

- Federal FY/Quarter 1: October 1 December 31
- Federal FY/Quarter 2: January 1 March 31
- Federal FY/Quarter 3: April 1 June 30
- Federal FY/Quarter 4: July 1 September 30

Gender: Gender is a social construct of identities, norms, behaviors, and roles that vary between societies and over time.

Goal: A goal is a broad statement about the long-term expectation of what should happen because of your program (the desired result). It serves as the foundation for developing your program objectives. Goals should align with the statement of need that is described. Goals should only be one sentence. The characteristics of effective goals include:

- Goals address outcomes, not how outcomes will be achieved.
- Goals are concise.
- Goals describe the behavior or condition in the community expected to change.
- Goals describe who will be affected by the project.
- Goals lead clearly to one or more measurable results.

Implementation: Implementation is the fourth step of the SPF process and puts a community's prevention plan into action by delivering evidence-based programs and practices as intended. To accomplish this task, planners will need to balance fidelity and adaptation, and establish critical implementation supports. See A Guide to SAMHSA's Strategic Prevention Framework for more details.

Inactive [prevention strategy status]: A prevention strategy is considered "inactive" if no part of the strategy was implemented during the reporting period. Strategies that have not yet started or were completed in a previous reporting period would be considered "inactive."

Indirect/population-based prevention efforts: Indirect/population-based prevention efforts are prevention strategies aimed at impacting an entire population. Examples of indirect/population-based prevention efforts include environmental strategies, such as establishment and enforcement of policies or laws that support healthy behavior (e.g., "zero tolerance" policies prohibiting smoking on school property, minimum drinking age).

Individuals reached/individuals to be reached: Individuals reached/individuals to be reached refers to grant-funded population-based prevention strategies aimed at impacting an entire population. Because there is no direct interaction with populations affected by the prevention strategies implemented, counts of people reached are typically estimates obtained from sources such as the US Census (population of targeted community) or media outlets (estimated readership or audience size).

Individuals served/individuals to be served: Individuals served/individuals to be served refers to grantfunded individual-based prevention strategies or services directly delivered to individuals, either on a one- on-one basis or in a group format. Typically, the provider of prevention services and participants are at the same physical location or virtual environment (e.g., webinar) during the service encounter. Because providers have direct interaction with these individuals, they are able to keep accurate counts and, in many cases, to collect data about the characteristics and outcomes of these participants through attendance lists and pre-post surveys. Examples include virtual training sessions and in-person educational classes.

Innovation/innovative strategy: An innovative prevention strategy is a method, idea, or approach that departs from the common ways of addressing a problem by applying adaptations, new processes, or new techniques to accomplish a goal.

Logic model: A logic model is a graphic planning tool, much like a roadmap, that can help prevention planners communicate where prevention efforts are headed and how goals will be reached. See AGuide to SAMHSA's Strategic Prevention Framework for more details.

Needs assessment: A needs assessment uses data to define the nature and extent of substance abuse problems, identifies affected populations, identifies underlying causal factors that lead to consumption patterns, and uses findings to select appropriate strategies. (Also, see definition for Assessment.)

New individuals reached: New individuals reached are individuals exposed to one or more grant-funded population-based prevention strategies for the first time. If individuals were exposed to population-based prevention strategies funded by your grant program during a previous reporting period and were counted in a previous QPR, do not report these individuals again as "new."

New individuals served: New individuals served refers to first-time grant program participants who received one or more grant-funded direct prevention service during the reporting period. The number reported for new individuals served should be an unduplicated count and should only include individuals receiving grant-funded services for the first time. If an individual received one or more grant-funded services during a previous reporting period and was counted in a previous QPR, do not report this person again as "new."

Non-binary: Non-binary is a term used to describe people who do not describe themselves or their genders as fitting into the binary categories of male or female.

Objectives: Objectives describe the results to be achieved and the manner in which they will be achieved. Multiple objectives are generally needed to address a single goal. Well-written objectives help set program priorities and targets for progress and accountability.

Panel of experts: A panel of experts may include qualified prevention researchers, local prevention practitioners, and key community leaders (e.g., law enforcement and education representatives, elders within indigenous cultures).

Policy: Policy is a set of organizational rules (including but not limited to laws) intended to promote healthy behavior and prevent unhealthy behavior.

Population of focus: Population of focus refers to a group of individuals that prevention efforts are intended to reach or serve.

Practice: A practice is a type of approach, technique, or strategy that is intended to promote wellbeing and reduce the onset and progression of substance misuse and its related problems.

Prevention: Prevention is the active, assertive process of creating conditions and/or personal attributes that promotes the wellbeing of people. A proactive process designed to empower individuals and systems to meet the challenges of life events and transitions by creating and reinforcing conditions that promote healthy behaviors and lifestyles. Substance misuse prevention is intended to promote wellbeing and reduce the onset and progression of substance misuse and related problems.

Prevention strategies: Prevention strategies are practices, policies, or programs intended to promote wellbeing and reduce the onset and progression of substance misuse and its related problems.

Program: A program is a set of predetermined, structured, and coordinated activities intended to promote wellbeing and reduce the onset and progression of substance misuse and its related problems. It can incorporate different practices; guidance for implementing a specific practice can be developed and distributed as a program.

Promising approach: A promising approach is an activity, program, initiative, or policy that shows potential for improving outcomes or addressing a prevention priority. Promising approaches may be in earlier stages of implementation and/or evaluation than evidence-informed or evidence-based prevention strategies.

Sexual Orientation: Sexual orientation refers to the enduring physical, romantic, or emotional attraction to members of the same or other genders (e.g., including lesbian, gay, bisexual, asexual, and straight orientations).

SPARS: SPARS is the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration's (SAMHSA's) Performance Accountability and Reporting System. It is an online data entry, reporting, technical assistance request, and training system to support grantees in reporting timely and accurate data to SAMHSA.

Strategic plan: Strategic planning is the fifth step in the SPF process and increases the effectiveness of prevention efforts by ensuring prevention planners select and implement the most appropriate programs/strategies for population of focus. A strategic plan is a written document that prioritizes substance misuse problems identified in the assessment process (SPF Step 1), selects appropriate programs/practices to address each priority, combines programs/practices to ensure a comprehensive approach, and builds/shares a logic model with key stakeholders. See A Guide to SAMHSA's Strategic Prevention Framework for more details.

Transgender: Transgender is a term that describes a person whose gender identity or expression differs 3 from the sex assigned at birth and societal and cultural expectations around sex. A person does not need to undergo a medical procedure to be considered transgender. Furthermore, not all individuals whose gender identity differs from the sex assigned at birth use the term transgender to describe themselves.

Two-Spirit: Two-spirit is a term used within some American Indian (AI) and Alaska Native (AN) communities to refer to a person who has both a male and a female essence or spirit. However, the meaning and use of this term is not universal across all AI/AN cultures. Most AI/AN communities have specific terms in their own languages for gender-variant members of their communities as well as the social and spiritual roles these individuals fulfill. (Definition adapted from NIH and IHS definitions of two-spirit).
