 Confidential Data Access Information
 Virtual Data Enclave (VDE)
 NLSY State, County, and MSA Geocode
 Or CFOI-Masked

For multiple researchers applying together, but affiliated with different institutions, one form should be completed for each institution.

Conditions of Data Access

- The information you provide will be used by the Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) for administrative purposes associated with granting access to restricted BLS data.
- BLS requires a legal agreement with the institution and an Agent Agreement for each individual. The terms and conditions of those agreements are not negotiable.
- Researchers are expected to begin work on projects as soon as their VDE accounts are set up. If you are not yet ready to begin accessing the VDE, you are responsible for notifying the BLS in advance to delay processing of your legal agreement.
- Researchers are responsible for notifying the BLS of any changes. If an agent leaves the institution during a project (e.g., because a researcher graduated) BLS will terminate that agent's access to the confidential data. If no other agents remain at the institution or if the research project ends, BLS will terminate the legal agreement with the institution. If researchers are added to the project or if any work location details entered in Section 5 below change, researchers are responsible for re-submitting this form indicating those changes.
- Agreements are specific to each research project. If you have an active project and you later wish to use the same data for an additional project, you must submit a new proposal.
- All research outputs derived from confidential BLS data will be reviewed by BLS to ensure that they comply with requirements to protect respondent confidentiality.
- BLS reserves the right to inspect the facilities where confidential data are used to verify compliance with the terms and conditions of the legal agreement.
- The VDE must be accessed from a single non-private static IP address that is associated with the institution and restricted to the precise approved room so access can be tracked. If the institution is unable to provide a location-specific IP address restricted to a single room, a static IP address is still required and the VDE must be accessed from a non-portable desktop computer located in the approved room.
- Allowable workspaces include personal offices and library carrels with doors. Cubicles or computer lab space may be permitted only if steps can be taken to prevent unauthorized individuals from seeing or accessing the data. These steps may include screen protectors, workspace dividers, or working from a corner of a room with no ability for others to walk behind the researcher. Such steps should be described in Section 5 below. Specific workplace setups are subject to approval by the BLS.

1. Institution Information
Institution Legal Name (legal names may differ from website information, confirm with your institution):
Identify Signing Official: No signature is needed on this form. This official must have the authority to enter into legal binding agreements on behalf of your employer or educational institution. Check your institution's policy. Typically, the signatory for an educational institution will be a contract or grant officer from a Sponsored Programs or Sponsored Research office. When proposing a signatory who is not from a Sponsored Programs or Sponsored Research type of office, briefly describe your institution's policy in the space provided. Generally, a Dean or Department Chair does not have the appropriate legal authority.

2. Recipient Project Coordinator
The Recipient Project Coordinator is responsible for ensuring researcher compliance with the BLS data sharing agreement. A project coordinator must be a full-time employee of the institution and serves as the main point-of-contact between the BLS and the institution. A researcher may serve as project coordinator unless that individual is a student. Examples of acceptable project coordinators include professors, academic advisors, or department chairs.

3. External Datasets
List all external datasets that you intend to link to confidential BLS data and their source(s). For any proprietary non-public datasets, you must verify that you have permission to legally share the data with the BLS under the terms of the purchasing or licensing agreement for the data. Access to external data is restricted to the BLS staff or contractors assisting with the project, but once the data is co-mingled with BLS data it cannot be removed from the VDE. (It will be deleted or destroyed at the end of the project.)
