What's New

We have redesigned the Form SS-8 and these instructions.

Reminders

See IRS.gov/CompleteSS8 for additional information about Form SS-8 and worker classification.

General Instructions

If you do not want the information on your Form SS-8 disclosed to other parties, do not file Form SS-8.

Purpose of Form

Firms and workers file Form SS-8 to request a determination of the status of a worker under the common law rules for purposes of federal employment taxes and income tax withholding. Generally, under the common law rules a worker is an employee if the firm has the right to control and direct what will be done and how it will be done. See Pub. 15-A, Employer's Supplemental Tax Guide, for more information on how to determine whether a worker providing services is an employee or independent contractor. The SS-8 unit doesn't handle supplemental wage issues.

Form SS-8 limitations. A Form SS-8 determination may be requested only in order to resolve federal tax matters. The IRS does not issue a determination letter for:

- Proposed transactions,
- Hypothetical situations,
- Cases involving current worker classification litigation,
- Cases involving state or local government workers who may be performing services under an agreement entered into pursuant to Section 218 of the Social Security Act (see Only the Social Security Administration \(SSA\) makes Section 218 Agreement determinations next),
- Business-to-business transactions, or
- Other reasons not in the best interests of tax administration.

We may, however, issue an information letter when it is considered appropriate.

Only the Social Security Administration (SSA) makes Section 218 Agreement determinations. Only the SSA can determine if a Section 218 Agreement covers a position with a state or local government entity. The state or local government firm or the worker should contact the State Social Security Administrator for assistance. See Section 218 Agreement under Definitions next.

Definitions

Firm. For the purposes of this form, the term "firm" means any individual, business enterprise, organization, state, or other entity for which a worker has performed services. The firm may or may not have paid the worker directly for these services.

If the firm was not responsible for payment for services, be sure to enter the name, address, and employer identification number of the payer on the first page of Form SS-8, below the identifying information for the firm and the worker.

Section 218 Agreement. Workers for state and local governments and/or interstate instrumentalities may be covered by a Section 218 Agreement. A Section 218 Agreement is a written, voluntary agreement between the State Social Security Administrator and the SSA. All 50 states, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, and approximately 60 interstate instrumentalities have Section 218 Agreements extending social security coverage to specified employees. Workers covered under a Section 218 Agreement are subject to social security and Medicare tax regardless of any determinations made under the common law rules.

For further clarification on a Section 218 Agreement, refer to Pub. 963, Federal-State Reference Guide.

Whether a state or local government worker is subject to social security and Medicare tax depends on which of the following three categories the worker falls into:

1. Subject to social security under a Section 218 Agreement, or
2. Subject to social security under mandatory coverage provisions, or
3. Excluded from social security because there is no Section 218 Agreement and the employee is covered by a qualified retirement plan.

The Form SS-8 Determination Process

The IRS will acknowledge the receipt of your Form SS-8.

Third party information. Because there are usually two (or more) parties who could be affected by a determination of employment status, the IRS attempts to get information from all parties involved by sending those parties blank Forms SS-8 for completion. Some or all of the information provided on this Form SS-8 may be shared with the other parties listed on page 1 of the form.

Review of information. The case will be assigned to a technician who will review the facts, apply the law, and render a decision. The technician may ask for additional information from the requestor, from other involved parties, or from third parties that could help clarify the work relationship before rendering a decision.

Issuance of determination. The IRS will generally issue a formal determination to the firm or payer (if that is a different entity), and will send a copy to the worker. A determination letter applies only to a worker (or a class of workers) requesting it, and the decision is binding on the IRS if there is no change in the facts or law that form the basis for the ruling. In certain cases, a formal determination will not be issued. Instead, an information letter may be issued. Although an information letter is advisory only and is not binding on the IRS, a worker may use it in fulfilling their federal tax obligations.

Reconsideration of determination. Neither the Form SS-8 determination process nor the review of any records in connection with the determination constitutes an examination (audit) of any federal tax return. If the periods under consideration have previously been examined, the Form SS-8 determination process will not constitute a reexamination under IRS reopening procedures. Because this is not an examination of any federal tax return, the appeal rights available in connection with an examination do not apply to a Form SS-8 determination. If you disagree with a determination, you can identify facts that were part of the original submission that you think were not fully considered. If you have additional information concerning the relationship that was not part of the original submission, you can submit the additional information and request that the office reconsider the determination.

Specific Instructions

Completing Form SS-8

Form SS-8 will be returned to the requestor if all required information is not provided.

The IRS cannot make a determination on your Form SS-8 unless you complete all questions in Parts I through IV. In addition, Part V must be completed if the worker provides a service directly to customers or is a salesperson. See below for more information on service providers.

Parts I through V. You should provide full, clear, and concise responses to the questions in Parts I through IV, and, if applicable, Part V. Incomplete Forms SS-8 will not be processed.

- If you cannot answer a question, enter “Unknown” or “Does not apply.”
- If you need more space for a question, continue your answer on another sheet with the part and question number clearly identified. Attach that sheet to your Form SS-8. Write your firm's name (or worker's name) and employer identification number (or social security number (SSN)) at the top of each additional sheet attached to your Form SS-8.
- If the worker provided a service directly to customers (for example, dry cleaning service, massage therapy, grocery delivery, beverage delivery, etc.), or is a salesperson who sells to individuals or businesses, complete Part V, For Service Providers or Salespersons.

Part I, line 1. Provide all the years you provided services to the firm.

A determination can only be made for years with open statutes. See later for information on the time for filing a claim for refund.

Part I, line 5. Include copies of the Forms 1099-MISC, Forms 1099-NEC, and/or Forms W-2 that were issued from the firm for all years in question. If you are unable to provide copies of these forms, submit a letter with a breakdown of how much was earned for each year, along with any copies of checks, paystubs, bank statements, etc.

If you have any current or past litigation involving you and the worker or firm, please explain on Part I, line 5a, of your Form SS-8. The IRS won't provide a ruling in cases where there's pending worker classification litigation. If you believe the litigation doesn't involve worker classification, or the litigation has been settled, please include documentation (for example, a Copy of Complaint, First Pleading, Court Docket, or any other supporting information you want us to consider).

Part IV. When answering the questions in Part IV, indicate if there were any significant changes in the work relationship between the firm and the worker over the service term. Determinations are based on the entire relationship between the firm and the worker.

Part V. Complete Part V, For Service Providers or Salespersons, if the worker provided a service directly to customers (for example, dry cleaning service, massage therapy, grocery delivery, beverage delivery, etc.), or is a salesperson who sells to individuals or businesses.

Fee

There is no fee for requesting a Form SS-8 determination letter.

Signature

Form SS-8 must be signed and dated by the taxpayer. Neither a stamped signature nor your power of attorney representative's signature will be accepted. A Form SS-8 that is not properly signed and dated by the taxpayer cannot be processed and will be returned.

The original of a request for an SS-8 determination should generally include:

- An original handwritten signature; or
- An electronic signature (for example, a faxed or digitally signed PDF Adobe document).

The person who signs for a corporation must be an officer of the corporation who has personal knowledge of the facts of the business. If the corporation is a member of an affiliated group filing a consolidated return, the Form SS-8 must be signed by an officer of the common parent of the group.

The person signing for a trust, partnership, or limited liability company must be, respectively, a trustee, general partner, or member-manager who has personal knowledge of the facts of the business.

When To File

Statute of limitations. If Form SS-8 is submitted for a tax year for which the statute of limitations on the tax return has expired, a determination letter will not be issued. For more information on the statute of limitations for individual income tax returns, see How Long Should Records Be Kept? in the Instructions for Form 1040.

Where To File

You can mail or fax your completed and signed Form SS-8. Do not submit Form SS-8 with your tax return as that will delay the processing time.

Instructions for Workers

Form SS-8 is not a claim for refund of social security and Medicare taxes or federal income tax withholding.

If you are requesting a determination for more than one firm, complete a separate Form SS-8 for each firm.

If the IRS determines that you are an employee, you are responsible for filing an amended return for any corrections related to this decision as applicable. A determination that you are an employee does not necessarily reduce any current or prior tax liability. For more information, call 800-829-1040.

Filing Form SS-8 does not alter the requirement to timely file an income tax return or pay taxes. Do not delay filing your tax return in anticipation of an answer to your Form SS-8 request. In addition, if applicable, do not delay in responding to a request for payment while waiting for a determination of your worker status.

Time for filing a claim for refund. Generally, you must file your claim for a credit or refund within 3 years from the date your original return was filed or within 2 years from the date the tax was paid, whichever is later.

Filing Form SS-8 does not prevent the expiration of the time in which a claim for a refund must be filed.

Protecting your statute of limitations on credits and refunds. If you are concerned about a refund, and the statute of limitations for filing a claim for refund for the year(s) at issue has not yet expired, you should file Form 1040-X, Amended U.S. Individual Income Tax Return, to protect your statute of limitations. File a separate Form 1040-X for each year.

On the Form 1040-X you file, do the following.

- Enter your name, current address, and SSN or taxpayer identification number on the front of your Form 1040-X.
- Write “Protective Claim” at the top of page 1.
- Enter the following statement in Explanation of Changes: “Filed Form SS-8 with the Internal Revenue Service Office in Holtsville, NY. By filing this protective claim, I reserve the right to file a claim for any refund that may be due after a determination of my employment tax status has been completed.”
- Sign and date the form.
- Leave the rest of your Form 1040-X blank.

Instructions for Firms

Worker requests determination. If a worker has requested a determination of his or her status while working for you, you will receive a request from the IRS to complete a Form SS-8. In cases of this type, the IRS usually gives each party an opportunity to present a statement of the facts because any decision will affect the employment tax status of the parties. Failure to respond to this request will not prevent the IRS from issuing an information letter based on the facts available to it so that the worker can fulfill their federal tax obligations. However, the information that you provide is extremely valuable in determining the status of the worker.

Firm requests determination. If you are requesting a determination of worker status, the information you must provide depends on what you are requesting.

- If you are requesting a determination for a specific worker, complete the form with that worker’s information.
- If you are requesting a determination for a particular class of worker, complete the form for one worker in that class of workers and provide a list with the names, addresses, and SSNs (if available) of all workers potentially affected by the determination.

- If you want a written determination for more than one class of workers, complete a separate Form SS-8 for each class and provide a list with the names, addresses, and SSNs (if available) of all workers potentially affected by the determination.

Your request will be returned as incomplete if more than one person provides the same services but a list of workers providing the service is not provided.

Relief from employment taxes is not considered with Form SS-8 determinations. If you have a reasonable basis for not treating a worker as an employee, you may be relieved from having to pay employment taxes for that worker under section 530 of the Revenue Act of 1978. However, this relief provision cannot be considered in conjunction with a Form SS-8 determination because the determination does not constitute an examination of any tax return. For more information regarding section 530 of the Revenue Act of 1978 and to determine if you qualify for relief under this section, visit IRS.gov.

The Taxpayer Advocate Service (TAS) Is Here To Help You

What Is TAS?

TAS is an independent organization within the IRS that helps taxpayers and protects taxpayer rights. TAS strives to ensure that every taxpayer is treated fairly and that you know and understand your rights under the Taxpayer Bill of Rights.

How Can You Learn About Your Taxpayer Rights?

The Taxpayer Bill of Rights describes 10 basic rights that all taxpayers have when dealing with the IRS. Go to TaxpayerAdvocate.IRS.gov to help you understand what these rights mean to you and how they apply. These are your rights. Know them. Use them.

What Can TAS Do for You?

TAS can help you resolve problems that you can't resolve with the IRS. And their service is free. If you qualify for their assistance, you will be assigned to one advocate who will work with you throughout the process and will do everything possible to resolve your issue. TAS can help you if:

- Your problem is causing financial difficulty for you, your family, or your business;

Low Income Taxpayer Clinics (LITCs)

LITCs are independent from the IRS and TAS. LITCs represent individuals whose income is below a certain level and who need to resolve tax problems with the IRS. LITCs can represent taxpayers in audits, appeals, and tax collection disputes before the IRS and in court. In addition, LITCs can provide information about taxpayer rights and responsibilities in different languages for individuals who speak English as a second language. Services are offered for free or a small fee. For more information or to find an LTC near you, go to the LTC page at TaxpayerAdvocate.IRS.gov/LITC or see IRS Pub. 4134, Low Income Taxpayer Clinic List, at IRS.gov/pub/irs-pdf/p4134.pdf.

Representation

You may either represent yourself or, with proper written authorization, have someone else represent you. Your representative must be someone who is allowed to practice before the IRS, such as an attorney, certified public accountant, or enrolled agent (a person enrolled to practice before the IRS). Use Form 2848, Power of Attorney and Declaration of Representative, to authorize someone else to represent you before the IRS. On your Form 2848 or 8821, line 3, enter "Employment Tax," "SS-8," and the related years in the appropriate columns. If completing Form 8821, line 3, see the instructions for the form to determine what you should enter in column (d).

Privacy Act and Paperwork Reduction Act Notice. We ask for the information on Form SS-8 to carry out the Internal Revenue laws of the United States. This information will be used to determine the employment status of the worker(s) described on the form. Subtitle C, Employment Taxes, of the Internal Revenue Code imposes employment taxes on wages, including income tax withholding. Sections 3121(d), 3306(a), and 3401(c) and (d), and the related regulations, define employee and employer for purposes of employment taxes imposed under Subtitle C. Section 6001 authorizes the IRS to request information needed to determine if a worker(s) or firm is subject to these taxes. Section 6109 requires you to provide your identification number. Neither workers nor firms are required to request a status determination, but if you choose to do so, you must provide the information requested on this form. Failure to provide the requested information may prevent us from making a status determination. If any worker or the firm has requested a status determination and you are being asked to provide information for use in that determination, you are not required to provide the requested information. However, failure to provide such information will prevent the IRS from considering it in making the status determination. Providing false or fraudulent information may subject you to penalties. Generally, tax returns and return information are confidential, as required by section 6103. However, section 6103 allows or requires the IRS to disclose or give the information shown on this form to others as described in the Code. Routine uses of this information include providing it to the Department of Justice for use in civil and criminal litigation, to the Social Security Administration for the administration of social security programs, and to cities, states, the District of Columbia, and U.S. commonwealths and territories for the administration of their tax laws. We may also disclose this information to other countries under a tax treaty, to federal and state agencies to enforce federal nontax criminal laws, or to federal law enforcement and intelligence agencies to combat terrorism. We may provide this information to the affected worker(s), the firm, or payer as part of the status determination process.

You are not required to provide the information requested on a form that is subject to the Paperwork Reduction Act unless the form displays a valid OMB control number. Books or records relating to a form or its instructions must be retained as long as their contents may become material in the administration of any Internal Revenue law.

The time needed to complete and file this Form SS-8 will vary depending on individual circumstances. The estimated average time is:

Recordkeeping 18 hr., 53 min.
Learning about the law or the form 53 min.
Preparing and sending the form. 1 hr., 14 min.

If you have comments concerning the accuracy of these time estimates or suggestions for making this form simpler, we would be happy to hear from you. You can send your comments through IRS.gov/FormComments. Or you can send your comments to Internal Revenue Service, Tax Forms and Publications, 1111 Constitution Ave. NW, IR-6526, Washington, DC 20224. Don't send the form to this address. Instead, see Where To File, earlier.
