WIC Modernization Evaluation

What is the WIC Modernization Evaluation?

The WIC Modernization Evaluation is a study about if and how recent changes to WIC are improving program participation and the experience of WIC participants. The U.S. Department of Agriculture's (USDA) Food and Nutrition Service (FNS) is conducting this study with research organizations Mathematica, MEF Associates and the Nutrition Policy Institute. For more information about WIC modernization, you can visit this website: WIC Modernization | Food and Nutrition Service \(usda.gov\)

Who is participating?

All WIC agencies nationwide! This includes WIC participants like you, WIC agency staff, and vendor staff.

How can you be a part of it?

We want to hear from YOU! As a WIC participant, you can participate in a survey, focus group or both!

- Participant experience survey: If you are selected to participate in this survey, this 10-minute, web-based survey will ask about your background with WIC, experience applying to the program, and what it's like to use the program's new technology. You will receive $10 for completing the participant survey.
- Participant focus groups: If your local WIC site is selected for a case study and you are selected for a focus group, the study team will ask about your experience with WIC communications and support, getting your benefits, and using new WIC technologies. We expect focus groups to take about 90 minutes and you will receive $50 for participating in the focus group.

What will happen with the information collected from the study?

The study team wants to know how we can keep improving WIC so it works for today's families. We will use your important feedback to continue to make the program better! We will share the findings with WIC program leaders and the public.

When does everything happen?

- Data collection: Fall 2025 to Fall 2027 (surveys, case studies, and focus groups)
- Reporting: Early 2025 to Fall 2028
