Complete each yellow-highlighted box on the form to enter the Award Recipient name, name of person completing the form, and the program's service delivery projections.

Programs should project the total number of women served, served for breast cancer, served for cervical cancer, and for women who will receive patient navigation-only services. Programs are also required to provide projections by race/ethnicity and/or rural/urban/metro categories. Please provide these projections for total number of women to be served and for breast, cervical, and navigated-only. Programs may also enter population(s) of focus (e.g., religious group, additional races, LGBTQ+) and provide related projections. Definitions for race/ethnicity categories and rural/urban categories are provided on the Definitions tab. The race/ethnicity categories included in this projection worksheet are the minimum required categories from Office of Management and Budget and are those collected in CDC's minimum data elements (MDEs).

Please note that the race/ethnicity categories will be totaled automatically and should equal the total estimated projection. Similarly, the rural/urban/metro categories will be totaled automatically and should equal the total estimated projection. For instance, a program projecting to serve a total of 700 women should provide projections by race/ethnicity that total 700. If the program also chooses to provide projections by rural/urban/metro, the total for these categories should also equal 700. Any projections you add for population(s) of focus (e.g., religious group, additional races, LGBTQ+) are considered a subset of the total projection and should not necessarily sum to the total projection (e.g., 700).

Do not leave any yellow box empty. Enter 0 if the projection is zero.

These projections should reflect the clinical and patient navigation-only services you project to provide using NBCCEDP-funds. Initially, these projections should be based on the amount of CDC funds requested in your application budget. Projections should be ambitious but realistic. If your CDC funding award differs considerably from your requested funding amount, you may need to revise your service delivery projections. Revised service delivery projections may be submitted to CDC through nbccedp.cdc.gov.

Projections should be consistent with your work plan and budget. Projections should also be based on data, take into consideration the size of the eligible population, and consider the number of women served in the past.
