

Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality
TeamSTEPPS® for Long-Term Care – Focus Group Screener

Background information

Candidates will be screened to ensure that participants fall into the necessary range of professional roles within the long-term care field. Questions about gender, age, race and ethnicity, and professional and academic backgrounds are included in the screener to achieve representation across diverse groups when possible.

Candidates selected to participate in the focus group study will receive an honorarium of either $80, $120, or $250 based on their professional role.

Screener script and questions

Hello, my name is _____, and I'm calling from _____, a private research organization. This is not a sales call.

I'm calling because my company will be conducting focus groups in your area to test training materials to help staff in long-term care facilities communicate more effectively. We've called you because you work in the field, and we'd like to ask you a few questions to see if you qualify for one of our groups. If you are chosen and agree to participate, you will be compensated for your time. May we continue?

Are you familiar with the Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality (AHRQ)?

1) YES
