Dear [FirstName] [LastName]:

Your school food authority (SFA) has been selected to participate in the 2024–2025 National School Foods Study. The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Food and Nutrition Service (FNS) has selected Mathematica and its research partner Decision Information Resources (DIR) to conduct the study for school year (SY) 2024–2025.

With better data comes better policy; we seek to collect data to fully understand the school food environment.

This important study will (1) describe the food and nutrient content and overall nutritional quality of school meals and afterschool snacks, (2) update information on the school food environment and food service policies and practices, (3) estimate the cost to produce school meals and snacks, and (4) collect information about student participation, satisfaction, and dietary intake. This important study will collect updated information from States, School Food Authorities, schools, parents, and children on the school meal programs. These data have not been collected in over 10 years and is critical to informing current and future program and policy decisions, affecting your schools and student lunches.

Within the next few weeks, DIR will email you an invitation to complete the School Food Authority (SFA) Director Survey on the web. The survey will ask about the food service characteristics of your SFA, «District_Name», and its schools. The email will come from ([FILL_EMAIL]) and will include a unique link to the web survey. Your participation in this study is extremely valuable, and we appreciate the time and effort that you and other school staff will devote to the study. None of the information you provide in the survey will identify your district in any reports, or even that you were a respondent; only aggregated information collected from multiple school systems will be used to derive national estimates.

I have also included [LETTER ONLY: enclosed/EMAIL ONLY: linked] more detailed documents about the study and [a letter/letters] of endorsement for the study for your review.
