The SOAR Demonstration Grant Program’s goal is to fund the implementation of SOAR trainings and capacity building to identify, treat, and respond to patients or clients who have experienced severe forms of human trafficking as defined by the Trafficking Victims Protection Act (TVPA) of 2000, as amended, among their patient or client population. SOAR is a nationally recognized, accredited training program delivered by OTIP’s National Human Trafficking Training and Technical Assistance Center (NHTTAC) and designed to help target audiences identify and respond to those who are at risk of, currently experiencing, or have experienced trafficking and connect them with needed resources. Target audiences for SOAR trainings delivered by NHTTAC include professionals, organizations, and communities that address human trafficking in healthcare, behavioral health, public health, and social service settings. SOAR Demonstration Grant Program award recipients must provide the following program performance indicator data to OTIP on a quarterly and annual basis, as indicated.

PAPERWORK REDUCTION ACT OF 1995 (Pub. L. 104-13) STATEMENT OF PUBLIC BURDEN: The purpose of this information collection is to gather data on the grant program to assess program performance, inform evaluation efforts, tailor technical assistance for recipients, respond to inquiries from stakeholders, and inform policy and program development As required by the Paperwork Reduction Act (PRA) of 1995, 44 U.S.C. § 3501-3521, the public reporting burden for the following performance indicators is estimated to average X hour per response, including the time for reviewing instructions, gathering and maintaining the data needed, and reviewing the collection of information. This form is approved under the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) control number OMB No: 0970-XXXX, expiration date is XX/XX/XXXX. An agency may not conduct or sponsor, and a person is not required to respond to, a collection of information unless it displays a currently valid OMB control number. If you have any comments on this collection of information, please contact Vera Soto, Office on Trafficking in Persons, by email at Vera.Soto@acf.hhs.gov.

Definitions

Acceptability: describes barriers relative to clients' attitudes about personal and practice characteristics of providers and facilities to actual characteristics of existing providers and facilities (e.g., provider gender or ethnicity, provider neighborhood or type), as well as provider attitudes about acceptable personal characteristics of patients. For the purposes of this grant program, this may also include perceptions of how trauma-informed, person-centered, culturally and linguistically appropriate services provided are. See Nonfinancial Barriers and Access to Care for U.S. Adults.

Accessibility: describes barriers related to the relationship between the location of services and the location of clients (e.g., transportation resources and travel time). For the purposes of this grant program, this may also include lack of virtual or remote appointments. See Nonfinancial Barriers and Access to Care for U.S. Adults.

Accommodation: describes barriers related to the manner in which the supply resources are organized to accept clients as well as the clients' perceptions of the appropriateness of these systems (e.g., appointment systems and hours of operation). See Nonfinancial Barriers and Access to Care for U.S. Adults.

Affordability: describes barriers related to the relationship of prices of services to clients' income, ability to pay, and existing health insurance. See Nonfinancial Barriers and Access to Care for U.S. Adults.

Availability: describes barriers related to the volume of existing services and resources to clients' volume and types of needs (e.g., the adequacy of the supply of clinicians, clinical facilities, and specialized programs). See Nonfinancial Barriers and Access to Care for U.S. Adults.

Basic Necessities are encounters between a client and service provider in which a client is provided directly with items needed for daily living or with funds to purchase said items. This includes providing clients with personal care items such as shampoo, conditioner, soap, lotion, clothing, feminine hygiene products, and food.

Capacity Building: is long-term, purposeful training and technical assistance for the purpose of increasing public awareness and the ability to identify victims, provide assistance, make referrals, establish partnerships to support a seamless and coordinated response to human trafficking. Capacity building encompasses several stages (e.g., exploration, implementation, and sustainability) that are reflected in the three phases outlined in Section I. Program Description, SOAR Demonstration Program Requirements.

Individuals who are at risk for or have experienced human trafficking come from a variety of backgrounds, speak different languages, and belong to different cultures. Prime recipients must ensure all SOAR Demonstration Program activities align with culturally and linguistically appropriate goals, policies, and management accountability and infuse these standards throughout planning and operations.

Disability¹⁰: is defined as the product of interactions among individuals' bodies; their physical, emotional, and mental health; and the physical and social environment in which they live, work, or play. Disability exists where this interaction results in limitations of activities and restrictions to full participation at school, at work, at home, or in the community. Disability is a dynamic concept that changes over time as one's health improves or declines, as technology advances, as therapeutic, pharmaceutical, and other interventions are developed, and as social structures adapt. As such, disability is a continuum in which the degree of difficulty may also increase or decrease. The disability markers used under the SOAR Demonstration Grant Program are borrowed from the Census Bureau's American Community Survey (ACS) to capture six aspects of disability, which can be used together to create an overall disability measure, or independently to identify populations with specific disability types.

Exit or disenrollment occurs when a client separates from the program and is no longer receiving comprehensive case management services. This may occur as a result of the client completing the program or for a variety of other reasons.

Family Reunification are encounters between a client and service provider or on behalf of a client (with their consent) in which efforts are made to reunify the client with their family members in the United States. This may include making phone calls to arrange family reunification, holding meetings to prepare for family reunification, and assisting clients in obtaining and completing any necessary reunification paperwork.

Language Concerns include the inability to readily provide interpreters for all languages/dialects

Language Services are encounters between a translator or interpreter and client to assess service needs and/or to provide services to a client. This includes the use of language lines for interpretation services.

Legal Advocacy and Services are generally encounters between a client and an attorney or paralegal to discuss the client's rights and legal options or to follow through on legal remedies. Legal advocacy and services include criminal record expungement, or assistance with civil, family court, or immigration related matters. Legal advocacy and services may also include using program funds to provide 'know your rights' presentations to facilitate legal representation by private attorneys willing to act on behalf of clients pro bono. Program funding cannot be used for criminal defense attorney services.

Life Skills are encounters between a client and service provider to develop skills necessary for full participation in everyday life. This includes assisting clients in learning how to do laundry, navigate public transportation, maintain personal hygiene, develop healthy relationships, enact conflict resolution, and cook healthy and balanced meals.

Safety Planning is an encounter between a client and service provider in which they develop a practical plan to avoid and react to dangerous situations. This plan should be based on the specific needs of each client.

Social Service Provider: is a professional who supports individuals, families, and communities by providing and improving social and health services, including counseling and psychotherapy. They include highly trained and experienced professionals who have earned a bachelor, master, or doctoral degree in social work or a related discipline.

Training¹⁴ is the planning, development, delivery and evaluation of activities designed to achieve specific learning objectives for participants. The learning objectives may be achieved using a variety of instructional strategies such as lecture, group discussion, demonstration role play, and other methods of group and individual integration. Training may include onsite instruction, classroom training, webinars, online or virtual training, self-directed learning, and workshops.

Transitional Housing is designed to provide homeless individuals and families with the interim stability and support to successfully move to and maintain permanent housing. Transitional housing is time limited with clients staying up to 24 months in the housing, typically with accompanying supportive services. Individuals must have a lease (or sublease) or occupancy agreement in place when residing in transitional housing.

Transportation Services are encounters in which a service provider provides a client with the necessary resources to access transportation which enables clients to access services. This includes providing clients with bus/rail passes, cabs/cab vouchers, or gas assistance. This may occur with the service provider purchasing transportation on behalf of the client, providing clients with gifts cards to the same purpose, or providing clients with cash to purchase transportation themselves.

Trauma-Informed and Person-Centered Approaches: The SOAR Demonstration Program incorporates trauma-informed and person-centered approaches in building institutional responses to human trafficking that improve health outcomes and assist individuals of different racial, ethnic, cultural, ability, and religious backgrounds who have experienced human trafficking. A trauma-informed care model assumes that clients or patients and staff have experienced trauma. This model includes organizational change that promotes resilience in populations served and staff; engages individuals in care; prevents re-traumatization; and incorporates knowledge about trauma in policies, procedures, practices, and settings. For more information on the development of trauma-informed services and a framework for becoming a trauma-informed organization, system, or service sector, please visit the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration's Concept of Trauma and Guidance for a Trauma-informed Approach.

Trauma-Informed Approach: trauma-informed approach includes an understanding of the physical, social, and emotional impacts of trauma on individuals, as well as on the professionals who help them. A trauma-informed approach includes person-centered practices. A program, organization, or system that is trauma-informed acknowledges the widespread impacts that traumatic events have on survivors; recognizes the signs and symptoms of trauma in staff, survivors, and others involved in the anti-trafficking response system; identifies paths for support and healing; and responds by fully integrating knowledge about trauma into policies, procedures, practices, and settings. Like a person-centered approach, a trauma-informed approach prioritizes the client's safety and security, including safeguarding against policies and practices that may inadvertently re-traumatize clients.
