

Predator Damage Management Survey: “Heads-up” Postcard Distribution

Instructions

- We please ask that field staff personally deliver the postcards (included in this package) to each cooperator.
 - If field staff cannot directly deliver postcards to cooperators, we suggest contacting cooperators via email or phone.
- The reason for connecting with each cooperator is to:
 - Let them know about the survey study and that they should look to receive a link to the questionnaire via email in the fall.
 - Explain the importance of this study: evaluate the success of predator damage management techniques and the nonlethal program, so Wildlife Services can better understand the perspectives and opinions of those who received these services.
 - Obtain email addresses
 - We are pushing our questionnaire to the web so please do your best to obtain cooperators’ email addresses. This will significantly reduce the time and burden on cooperators who are willing to participate.
 - If any cooperators say they do not have an email address, do not have access to the internet, or if they are simply unwilling to take the questionnaire online, please then obtain their full mailing address so we can mail them a paper version of the questionnaire.
 - For those who opt to fill out a paper version, let them know that it will include a post-paid return envelope and instructions for mailing it back.
 - Keep in mind: There are no risks to cooperators for taking this questionnaire. In addition, while cooperators’ opinions are very important to us, their participation in this research is entirely voluntary.

FOR EACH COOPERATOR, PLEASE INPUT THE FOLLOWING INTO THE SPREADSHEET ON THE NONLETHAL INITIATIVE TEAMS PAGE
(Cooperator Details_FY25):

NAME & EMAIL ADDRESS

(When necessary, please also include a complete mailing address)

*If you have any questions or concerns or need more postcards please email:
Hailey Ellis (hailey.e.ellis@usda.gov)*

Thank you so much for your help with this study!