This image shows a mobile application interface on a smartphone. At the top, the status bar shows the time as 12:29 and signal strength. Below the status bar are the same three logos (CDC, NACHC, NCFH) seen in the desktop version. The survey question 'Do you talk to patients about protecting their health from exposure to heat?' is displayed, followed by a 'Yes ▾' dropdown menu. Below this is the question 'When do you speak with your patients about heat and their health?(Select all that apply)'. The response options are identical to the desktop version: 'At every visit?', 'At visits during warmer months?', 'During extreme heat days/events?', 'At visits for high-risk patients?', 'If the patient brings it up.', 'Other [please specify]' (with a text input field), and 'Never'.
