

Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program provides nutrition benefits to supplement the food budget of needy families so they can purchase healthy food and move towards self-sufficiency. FNS works with state agencies to ensure eligible individuals and households can make informed decisions about applying for the program and access nutrition assistance benefits. FNS also provides technical assistance as needed.

Welcome Back
Alison Conrad

General Information

State agencies are responsible for general program administration and ensuring program integrity. State agencies determine the eligibility of individuals and households to receive SNAP benefits, and issue monthly allotments of benefits.

SNAP Quality Control measures the accuracy of state eligibility and benefit determinations.

OMB Control Number: 0584-0083 – Expiration Date: 07/31/2023. Public reporting burden related to the Waiver Information Management System (WIMS) for this collection of information is estimated at one hour per response, including the time for submitting waiver requests via WIMS.

Waiver Templates

Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program provides all states access to waiver request templates to help State Agencies begin the waiver process. The waiver templates should be used as guides but are not the only way to submit.