Tracking Responses to the 60-day FRN (Public Comments)

You must respond to EVERY comment or request for information that you receive, and your response should be sent within the 60-day public comment period. This activity must be reflected in the tracking log below.

How to use this log:
- o Document each request for information, comment, or question you receive due to the 60-day Federal Register publication below.
- o A response may include feedback about the comment, providing documents, and/or an action in which you changed submission materials to consider their comments.
- o Include every public comment as a separate file titled "Public Comment #1", "Public Comment #2", etc.
- o If no comments or requests for information were received, write, "There were no public comments received."
- o Submit this form to the NCI OMB Liaison so that NIH can review this information.
