In February 2021, OMB approved ACF's request to renew the generic information collection for formative data collections (0970-0356). This report provides an overview of the use of the generic IC over the three years of approval.

The renewal of the generic IC was approved for three years, during which time ACF requested 25 new generic ICs for formative data collection. The use of the formative generic IC has been beneficial to the development and improvement of ACF program and demonstration research and evaluation projects.
