

Survey would be available here: <https://forms.office.com/g/FyACcZcYFb>

An email from our Center Director's office would go out to AFRC-Public (all civil servant and contractor employees at NASA), and it would look like this:

Message from the Center Director

Team Armstrong,

During the last several town halls, I have received questions about on-site childcare at AFRC. I've asked my staff to generate a survey that will better help us understand the current and potential future demand for childcare. This survey is just the first step towards hopefully finding a long-term solution for what is a major obstacle to recruitment and retention at our Center. The survey is available to all civil servant and contractor employees and should only take approx. 10 minutes to complete. I encourage anyone who has a need or a future need for this kind of support to take the time to complete the survey. The survey will close 2 weeks from today on _____. Use this link to take the survey: AFRC Childcare Survey

Thank you,

Brad Flick

The survey would be posted on our internal NASA Armstrong site, Inside Armstrong, under Center Announcements:

A screenshot of the "Inside Armstrong Community" website. The page has a blue header with the text "Welcome to the Inside Armstrong Community" and "Part of the NASA Community". Below the header, there's a section for "Center Announcements" and "Center Events". The "Center Announcements" section is circled in red and contains four items: "Watch Party: NASA 2040 Champions Meeting", "Awards Drop In: NASA Honor Award Nomination Tips", "Project Pop-up: Air Traffic Management Exploration (ATM-X)", and "Help Quests Soar to South by Southwest! (Note Today through Aug. 18)". The "Center Events" section contains three items: "Registration Deadline | Ideas to Flight Workshop", "Kirsten Boogaard's Going Away Party", and "Free Online Ham Radio Training". On the right side of the page, there's a sidebar with a "Post an Event or Announcement" button and a "See all" link for the "Center Events" section.