Study and Focus Group Overview:

This study will be conducted by an independent research firm, Mathematica, on behalf of the Administration of Children and Families in the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. Our goal during these focus groups is to learn more about how you think sexual risk avoidance, sexual health, and relationship education programs could work better for youth and their families.

The focus groups will take place using a virtual platform called QualBoard. We will post questions and ask you respond to them within a group of other parents who have children that attend(ed) [SRAE PROGRAM]. At your convenience, we will ask you to login to QualBoard over a three-day period to respond to and reflect on other parents' responses to the questions posted. We expect it will take you about 30 minutes each day to participate.

We will send you additional details about how QualBoard works and how to log in 1-2 days before the focus group begins.

These online group discussions are completely voluntary, but we really value your opinions and hope you are open to responding to all of the questions asked. Everything you post in QualBoard will be kept private from everyone except the other parents in the group and the Mathematica study team members. Within the QualBoard site, you will only share either your first name, initials, or if you prefer, an alias. This means the other participants will not be able to link your responses back to you. We will never attach your responses to your real name in any way.

After participating in the focus groups for three days, you will receive a $35 gift card for your time and for completing the focus group.

Do you have any questions for me about the focus groups?

[RESPOND TO ANY QUESTION'S PARTICIPANT MAY HAVE]

Lastly, if you agree to participate, I need to collect your email address so we can have an account setup for you on QualBoard. You will receive an email 1-2 days before the start of the group with instructions on how to create your account. I would also like to collect your phone number in case we are unable to reach you about participation via email.

Email address: _____

Phone number: _____

Do we have permission to send you a text message at this telephone number to send reminders about the group? (CIRCLE ONE) YES NO

Thank you! This information will be kept private and only be used for purposes of this study.

Next Steps

We will also send you information about a voluntary group call to learn more about the study or to answer any questions focus group participants may have. If you have any questions in the meantime, you can always contact us at [EMAIL] or [PHONE NUMBER].

Thank you for speaking with me today, we are excited to have you as a participant in this important study!
