

Author Full Name : Brian ThomasReceived Date : 01/24/2025 10:15 AMComments Received :

The collection of data from school systems was originally set at an every two-years collection. However over the past few years, the collection has increased to being every year. The data collection process is very time consuming and takes many resources away from school districts' primary focus of educating students. Please consider returning to an every two- or three-year collection cycle.