for the Paperwork Reduction Act Information Collection Submission for Rule 17a-3
OMB Control No. 3235-0033

A. JUSTIFICATION

1. Information Collection Necessity

All brokers and dealers in the ordinary course of their businesses need to maintain certain books and records reflecting, among other things, income and expenses, assets and liabilities, daily trading activity and the status of customer and firm accounts. These books and records are, for the most part, standard and would be kept by any prudent individual engaging in a securities business.

The Securities and Exchange Commission (“Commission” or “SEC”) is statutorily authorized by Sections 17(a)¹ and 23(a)² of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (“Exchange Act”) to promulgate rules and regulations regarding the maintenance and preservation of books and records of exchange members, brokers and dealers (“broker-dealers”). Exchange Act Section 17(a)(1) provides in pertinent part:

“[all members of a national securities exchange and registered brokers and dealers] shall make and keep for prescribed periods such records...as the Commission, by rule, prescribes as necessary or appropriate in the public interest, for the protection of investors, or otherwise in furtherance of the purposes of the [Exchange Act].”

To standardize recordkeeping practices throughout the industry, the Commission, in 1939, adopted Rule 17a-3,³ which established minimum standards with respect to business records that broker-dealers must create.⁴ Rule 17a-3 requires broker-dealers to make and keep current certain records relating to their financial condition, communications, customer information, and employees.

The Commission adopted certain Amendments to Rule 17a-3 on October 25, 2001 (the “2001 Amendments”), in part as a response to the National Securities Market Improvement Act of 1996 (“NSMIA”).⁵ NSMIA prohibits any State from establishing books and records rules for broker-dealers that differ from, or are in addition to, the Commission's rules, and also requires the Commission to consult periodically with the States concerning the adequacy of the Commission’s books and records rules.⁶ The 2001 Amendments expanded the types of records that broker-dealers must create to include additional records necessary for State examiners to review for sales practice violations at office locations, and were designed to assist regulators, particularly State securities regulators, in conducting effective examinations.⁷

On June 5, 2019, the Commission adopted Rule 15c-1 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (“Exchange Act”) establishing a standard of conduct for broker-dealers and natural persons who are associated persons of a broker-dealer (unless otherwise indicated, together referred to as “broker-dealer” or “BD”) when making a recommendation of any securities transaction or investment strategy involving securities to a retail customer (“Regulation Best Interest”).⁸ At the same time, the Commission adopted Exchange Act Rule 17a-14 (CFR 240.17a-14) and Form CRS (17 CFR 249.640) under the Exchange Act.⁹ As part of new Rule 17a-14 and Form CRS and Regulation Best Interest, the Commission amended Rule 17a-3 by adding new paragraphs (a)(24) and (a)(35), respectively.

On September 19, 2019, The Commission amended its recordkeeping requirements for broker-dealers in Rule 17a-3 to implement the new recordkeeping requirements mandated under the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act of 2010¹⁰ (the “Dodd-Frank Act”) for broker-dealer SBSs and broker-dealer MSBSPs, and to account for the security-based swap and swap activities of stand-alone broker-dealers.¹¹

¹⁰ Pub. L. 111–203, 124 Stat. 1376 (2010). Title VII of the Dodd-Frank Act (“Title VII”) established a new regulatory framework for the over-the-counter derivatives markets. Title VII was enacted, among other reasons, to provide for the registration and regulation of security-based swap dealers (“SBSs”) and major security-based swap participants (“MSBSPs”), and create recordkeeping and reporting regimes for such entities. Section 764 of the Dodd-Frank Act added Section 15F to the Exchange Act, which directs the Commission to adopt rules governing reporting and recordkeeping for SBSs and MSBSPs.

Additionally, Section 17(a)(1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 provides the Commission with authority to adopt rules requiring broker-dealers – which would include broker-dealer security-based swap dealers (“broker-dealer SBSs”) and broker-dealer major security-based swap participants (“broker-dealer MSBSPs”) – to make and keep for prescribed periods such records, furnish such copies thereof, and make and disseminate such reports as the Commission, by rule, prescribes as necessary or appropriate in the public interest, for the protection of investors, or otherwise in furtherance of the purposes of the Exchange Act. See 15 U.S.C. 78q(a)(1).

2. Information Collection Purpose and Use

The purpose of requiring broker-dealers, broker-dealer SBSBs, and broker-dealer MSBSBs to create the records specified in Rule 17a-3 is to enhance regulators' ability to protect investors. These records and the information contained therein will be and are used by examiners and other representatives of the Commission, State securities regulatory authorities, and the self-regulatory organizations (e.g., FINRA, CBOE, etc.) ("SROs") to determine whether broker-dealers are in compliance with the Commission's antifraud and anti-manipulation rules, financial responsibility program, and other Commission, SRO, and State laws, rules, and regulations.

If broker-dealers, broker-dealer SBSBs, and broker-dealer MSBSBs were not required to create these records, Commission, SRO, and state examiners would be unable to conduct effective and efficient examinations to determine whether broker-dealers were complying with relevant laws, rules, and regulations.

3. Consideration Given to Information Technology

The Commission believes that improvements in telecommunications and data processing technology may reduce any burdens that result from Rule 17a-3. Broker-dealers are not prevented by Rule 17a-3 from using computers or other mechanical devices to generate the records required under the Rule.

4. Duplication

Rule 17a-3 was drafted and amended to codify SRO record-keeping requirements and the record-keeping practices of prudent broker-dealers. Because most broker-dealers already create many of the records required by Rule 17a-3 either voluntarily or pursuant to SRO requirements, no duplication of such information is apparent.

5. Effect on Small Entities

The books and records required under Rule 17a-3 are normally created by small broker-dealers. Since small broker-dealers utilize processes that are more manual in nature, while large broker-dealers use more automated processes, the Commission has estimated some of the time factors for small broker-dealers to be higher, as described below.

With respect to the amendments associated with the rulemaking implementing the recordkeeping requirements mandated under the Dodd-Frank Act with respect to broker-dealer SBSBs and broker-dealer MSBSBs, and to account for the security-based swap and swap activities of stand-alone broker-dealers, the Commission does not anticipate that the amendments will have any impact on small broker-dealers as most of these firms generally do not hold positions in security-based swaps.

6. Consequences of Not Conducting Collection

The information required to be collected and recorded under Rule 17a-3 allows the Commission, State securities regulatory authorities, and the SROs to determine whether broker-dealers, broker-dealer SBSs, and broker-dealer MSBSPs are in compliance with Commission, State, and SRO anti-fraud and anti-manipulation rules, financial responsibility rules, and other rules and regulations. If a broker-dealer, broker-dealer SBS, or broker-dealer MSBSP does not make these records, or it makes these records less frequently, the level of investor protection will be reduced. The records a broker-dealer, broker-dealer SBS, and broker-dealer MSBSP is required to make under Rule 17a-3 are, for the most part, essential to the successful operation of a securities firm, and failure to make the records on a current basis would likely cause the broker-dealer to experience operational difficulties.

7. Inconsistencies with Guidelines in 5 CFR 1320.5(d)(2)

There are no special circumstances. This collection is consistent with the guidelines in with 5 CFR 1320.5(d)(2).

Rule 17a-3 does not include a recordkeeping retention requirement in the text of the rule. Instead, Rule 17a-3 generally requires broker-dealers registered or applying for registration pursuant to Section 15 of the Exchange Act to make and keep current certain records relating to their financial condition, communications, customer information, and employees. Rule 17a-4¹² requires broker-dealers to preserve, for prescribed periods of time, the records required to be made under Rule 17a-3 and certain other Commission rules.

Under Rule 17a-4, broker-dealers are required to preserve for a period of not less than six years, the first two in an easily accessible place, blotters, ledgers, ledger accounts, and a securities record or ledger and certain other records. Further, broker-dealers must preserve for a period of not less than six years after the closing of any customer's account any account cards or records related to the terms and conditions of the opening and the maintenance of the account, as well as information related to the customer (e.g., name, tax identification number, address, telephone number, etc.), specified information related to recommendations made to retail customers, and a record of the date that each Form CRS was provided to each retail investor. Lastly each broker-dealer must preserve during the life of the enterprise and of any successor enterprise all partnership articles, articles of incorporation or charter, minutes books, stock certificate books, and various forms related to registration with the Commission.

The Commission believes that the extended retention periods are appropriate as they provide sufficient time for review of these records in connection with Commission inspections and investigations of SROs.

8. Consultations Outside the Agency

The required Federal Register notice with a 60-day comment period soliciting comments on this collection of information was published. No public comments were received.

9. Payment or Gift

No gifts or payments will be given to respondents.

10. Confidentiality

The records required by Rule 17a-3 are available only to the examination staffs of the Commission, State regulatory authorities, and the SROs. Subject to the provisions of the Freedom of Information Act, 5 U.S.C. § 552 (“FOIA”) and the Commission’s rules thereunder (17 CFR 200.80(b)(4)(iii)), the Commission generally does not publish or make available information contained in reports, summaries, analyses, letters, or memoranda arising out of, in anticipation of, or in connection with an examination or inspection of the books and records of any person or any other investigation.

11. Sensitive Questions

The Information Collection does not collect information about individuals, therefore, a PIA, SORN, and PAS are not required.

12. Information Collection Burden

All registered broker-dealers are subject to Rule 17a-3. Rule 17a-3 establishes certain records that must be made by all broker-dealers, while other records must be made only by certain broker-dealers. All of these burdens are recordkeeping burdens.

As of December 31, 2024, there were 3,342 broker-dealers registered with the Commission. The Commission estimates that the aggregate hour burden of the requirements associated with Rule 17a-3 is approximately hours per year, calculated as follows:

Records to be Made by All Broker-Dealers

Rule 17a-3 - Records to be made by certain exchange members, brokers and dealers

While recordkeeping requirements will vary based on the size and complexity of the broker-dealer, the Commission estimates that one hour a day is the average amount of time needed by a broker-dealer to comply with the overall requirements of Rule 17a-3, in addition to the separate burdens described below. The number of working days is 251,¹³ and as a result the total estimated burden for broker-dealers with respect to Rule 17a-3 generally is 838,842 hours per year.¹⁴ These hours are recordkeeping burdens.

¹³ There were 262 non-weekend days and 12 federal holidays in 2024. 261 non-weekend days – 11 federal holidays = 251 business days.

Rule 17a-3(a)(12, 19)

In addition to the hour burden estimate for Rule 17a-3 generally, the Commission also believes that paragraphs (a)(12) and (19) of Rule 17a-3 will impose specific burdens on broker-dealers. Paragraphs (a)(12) and (a)(19) of Rule 17a-3 require that a broker-dealer create certain records regarding its associated persons.¹⁵ The Commission estimates that each broker-dealer spends, on average, approximately 30 minutes each year to ensure that it is in compliance with these requirements, resulting in a total annual burden of about 1,671.¹⁶ These hours are recordkeeping burdens.

Rule 17a-3(a)(20-22)

Paragraphs (a)(20)–(22) of Rule 17a-3 require broker-dealers to make, among other things, records documenting the broker-dealer’s compliance, or that the broker-dealer has adopted policies and procedures reasonably designed to establish compliance, with applicable federal regulations and SRO rules that require approval by a principal of the broker-dealer of any advertisements, sales literature or other communications with the public. Moreover, these rules require broker-dealers to create a record of the personnel responsible for establishing compliance policies and procedures and of the personnel capable of explaining the types of records the broker-dealer.¹⁷ The Commission estimates that, on average, each broker-dealer will spend 10 minutes each year to ensure compliance with these requirements, yielding a total burden of about 557 hours per year.¹⁸ These are recordkeeping burdens.

Rule 17a-3(a)(17)

Estimating the paperwork burden associated with paragraph (a)(17) requires a more complicated formula to calculate the compliance burden because it is based on the number of customer accounts for which a broker-dealer must collect this information as opposed to the number of broker-dealers. In addition, the Commission understands that large broker-dealers

¹⁴ 3,342 (the number of broker-dealers as of December 31, 2024) multiplied by 1 hour per day multiplied by 251 working days equals 838,842 hours.

¹⁵ These records that a broker-dealer is required to make regarding the broker-dealer’s associated persons include: 1) all agreements pertaining to the associated person’s relationship with the broker-dealer and a summary of each associated person’s compensation arrangement (17 CFR 240.17a-3(a)(19)(ii)), 2) a record delineating all identification numbers relating to each associated person (17 CFR 240.17a-3(a)(12)(ii)), 3) a record of the office at which each associated person regularly conducts business (17 CFR 240.17a-3(a)(12)(iii)), and 4) a record as to each associated person listing transactions for which that person will be compensated (17 CFR 240.17a-3(a)(19)(i)).

have more automated processes to collect and create these records than smaller broker-dealers, and has factored this into its estimates.

As of the end of 2024, the 3,302 registered broker-dealers that filed the FOCUS Schedule I Reports on December 31, 2024, reported that they maintained a total of 290,046,639 customer accounts. Fifty-one (51) of those broker-dealers reported that they maintained over 100,000 accounts each (for purposes of this Supporting Statement, the “Large Broker-Dealers”), and the remaining 3,291 broker-dealers maintained fewer than 100,000 customer accounts each (for purposes of this Supporting Statement, the “Small Broker-Dealers”). The Large Broker-Dealers reported that they held a total of 288,450,668 customer accounts (or approximately 99% of the total customer accounts reported), with the Small Broker-Dealers holding the remaining 1,595,971 customer accounts (or approximately 1% of the total customer accounts reported). The Commission estimates that approximately 27.7% of the 290,046,639 total customer accounts would be excluded from the provisions of 17a-3(a)(17) because the accounts are either (i) not accounts of natural persons, (ii) inactive, or (iii) accounts for which the broker-dealer does not have a suitability requirement.¹⁹ Accordingly, the total number of active customer accounts regarding which broker-dealers would need to provide customers with account information is approximately 209,703,720 (207,606,683, or approximately 99%, held by Large Broker-Dealers and 2,097,037, or approximately 1%, held by Small Broker-Dealers).

Rule 17a-3(a)(17)(i)(B)(1) – Large BD; and Rule 17a-3(a)(17)(i)(B)(1) – Small BD

The Commission estimates that broker-dealers will be required to provide customer account information to approximately 69,901,240 customers per year to comply with paragraph (a)(17)(i)(B)(1).²⁰ Approximately 69,202,228 will be customers of Large Broker-Dealers,²¹ and approximately 699,012 will be customers of Small Broker-Dealers.²² Further, the Commission estimates that this will take Large Broker-Dealers an average of 1½ minutes per account, or a total of 1,730,056 hours per year for all Large Broker-Dealers,²³ and that it will take Small Broker-Dealers an average of 7 minutes per account, or a total of 81,552 hours per year for all Small Broker-Dealers.²⁴ Thus, the estimated total burden on the industry to comply with the paragraph (a)(17)(i)(B)(1) requirement to provide account information to customers when an account is opened and periodically thereafter is 1,811,608 hours per year.²⁵ These hours are

²⁰ (209,703,720 x (1 every 3 years)), or, in other words, (209,703,720/3) because the broker-dealer must send each customer a copy of his or her account record information once every three years.

²¹ 69,901,240 account records x 99% = 69,202,228 account records, or 1,356,906 account records per Large Broker-dealer (69,202,228 account records / 51).

²² 69,901,240 account records x 1% = 699,012, or approximately 212 account records per Small Broker-dealer (699,012 / 3,290).

²³ (69,202,228 x 1.5 minutes / 60 minutes) = 1,730,056 hours per year.

²⁴ (699,012 x 7 minutes / 60 minutes) = 81,552 hours per year.

²⁵ (1,730,056 hours + 81,551 hours) = 1,811,608 hours.

recordkeeping and third party disclosure burdens, with an assumption that the burden is split evenly between the two burden types.

Rule 17a-3(a)(17)(i)(B)(2) + (3) – Large BD; and Rule 17a-3(a)(17)(i)(B)(2) + (3) – Small BD

If a customer provides a broker-dealer with updated account record information, the broker-dealer must, pursuant to paragraphs (a)(17)(i)(B)(2) and (3), update the customer's account information and send the revised account information to the customer to verify its accuracy.²⁶ The Commission estimates that approximately 20% of the customers from whom information is requested will update their account records, resulting in 13,980,248 updated account records each year.²⁷ In addition, the Commission estimates that 5% of active customer accounts, or 10,485,186,²⁸ will initiate changes to their account records on a yearly basis, just as they do now, with no prompting from any account record mailing. The total number of updates, therefore, will be approximately 24,465,434.²⁹ The Commission estimates that it would take, on average, 5 minutes for Large Broker-Dealers to update each account and 10 minutes³⁰ for Small Broker-Dealers to update each account, resulting in an additional aggregate burden of approximately 2,059,174 hours per year (2,018,398 for all Large Broker-Dealers and 40,775 for all Small Broker-Dealers) to update account record information and provide the new account information to customers as required by paragraphs (a)(17)(i)(B)(2) and (3).³¹ These hours are recordkeeping and third party disclosure burdens, with an assumption that the burden is split evenly between the two burden types.

Rule 17a-3(a)(23) Part I

Paragraph (a)(23) of Rule 17a-3, requires certain broker-dealers to make and keep current a record documenting credit, market, and liquidity risk management controls established and maintained by the broker-dealer to assist it in analyzing and managing the risks associated with its business activities. The Commission estimates that a broker-dealer spends, on average, approximately 100 hours of employee resources to comply with this requirement to ensure its market, credit, and liquidity risk controls are documented. Based on FOCUS Report data, as of December 31, 2024, the Commission estimates there are approximately 529 broker-dealers that ²⁶ 17 CFR 240.17a-3(a)(17)(B)(2) and (3).

²⁷ $(69,901,240 \times 20\%) = 11,595,767$.

²⁸ $(209,703,720 \times 5\%) = 10,485,186$.

²⁹ $(13,980,248 + 10,485,186) = 24,465,434$.

³⁰ This estimate takes into account the 1½ and 7 minutes it would take Large and Small Broker-dealers, respectively, to provide this updated account information to customers, and the 3.5 minutes and 3 minutes it would take Large and Small Broker-dealers, respectively, to receive the returned data and input any changes into the account record. The estimated total minutes for updating and providing this information to customers of 5 minutes for Large Broker-dealers and 10 minutes for Small Broker-dealers were taken from a comment letter to the 2001 Amendments.

are subject to paragraph (a)(23).³² Therefore, the Commission estimates that the total one-time recordkeeping burden to all broker-dealers will be approximately 52,900 hours, or 17,067 hours per year when amortized over three years.³³

Rule 17a-3(a)(23) Part II

In addition to the one-time hour burden, based on similar collections of information requiring the documentation of risk management controls, broker-dealers required to comply with paragraph (a)(23) likely will incur annual hour burdens.³⁴ The Commission estimates that a broker-dealer spends approximately 45 hours per year to ensure its compliance with Paragraph (a)(23), for a total annual recordkeeping burden on the industry of 23,805 hours.³⁵

Rule 17a-3(a)(16)

Paragraph (a)(16) of Rule 17a-3 requires any broker-dealer that sponsors an internal broker-dealer system to make and keep current certain records relating to such system. The Commission estimates that paragraph (a)(16) of Rule 17a-3 imposes an annual burden of 27 hours per year per internal broker-dealer system to create the requisite records. The Commission estimates that there are approximately 200 internal broker-dealer systems,³⁶ resulting in a total annual recordkeeping burden of approximately 5,400 hours.³⁷

Records to be Made by Certain Broker-Dealers: Rules 17a-3(a)(24) and 17a-3(a)(35)

Based on prior estimates based on data obtained from Form BR, the Commission preliminarily believes that approximately 73.5% of registered broker-dealers, or 2,456 broker-dealers, have retail customers and therefore would likely be subject to Rules 17a-3(a)(24) and 17a-3(a)(35), ³² This estimate is based on the number of firms that have $1,000,000 in credits or $20,000,000 in capital as of December 31, 2024.

³³ 529 broker-dealers x 100 hours = 52,900 hours. For purposes of this supporting statement, the one-time burden annualized over the three-year approval period is 17,633.33(52,900/3), with an average hour burden per firm of 33.33 hours (17,633.33/512 firms).

³⁴ See Risk Management Controls for Brokers or Dealers with Market Access: Final Rule, Exchange Act Release No. 63241 (Nov. 3, 2010), 75 FR 69792, 69815 (Nov. 15, 2010). See also Capital, Margin, and Segregation Requirements for Security-Based Swap Dealers and Major Security-Based Swap Participants and Capital Requirements for Broker-Dealers, Exchange Act Release 68071, 77 FR at 70295 and 70297.

³⁶ The Commission believes that most over-the-counter (“OTC”) market makers maintain an internal broker-dealer system. In 2010, the Commission estimated that there are approximately 200 OTC market makers responsible for more than 1% of the trading volume in an exchange-traded security. See Disclosure of Order Handling Information, Exchange Act Release No. 84528 (Nov. 2, 2018), 83 FR 58338 (Nov. 19, 2018).

³⁷ 27 hours x 200 internal broker-dealer systems = 5,400 hours.

Rule 17a-3(a)(24)

Rule 17a-3(a)(24) requires certain SEC-registered broker-dealers to make a record indicating the date that a Form CRS was provided to each customer and to each prospective customer.

The Commission estimates that it would take each broker-dealer from 0.1 hours to 0.5 hours to create the records required by paragraph (a)(24) of rule 17a-3. The incremental hour burden for broker-dealers to create the records required by paragraph (a)(24) of rule 17a-3 as adopted will therefore be approximately 1,228 hours per year.³⁸

Rule 17a-3(a)(35)

Rule 17a-3(a)(35) requires a broker-dealer to make a record of all information collected from and provided to the retail customer pursuant to Regulation Best Interest, as well as the identity of each natural person who is an associated person of a broker or dealer, if any, responsible for the account. This requirement applies with respect to each retail customer to whom a recommendation of any securities transaction or investment strategy involving securities is provided. The burdens associated with each component of this rule are estimated as follows:

Rule 17a-3(a)(35): Record of Information Collected From and Provided to the Retail Customer Pursuant to Regulation Best Interest

The Commission understands that broker-dealers currently make records of relevant customer investment profile information, and therefore the Commission believes that no additional record-making obligations would arise as a result of broker-dealers' or their registered representatives' collection of information from retail customers.³⁹

Rule 17a-3(a)(35): Record of Identity of Associate Person Responsible for Account/ Firm Burden

In addition, Rule 17a-3(a)(35) requires a broker-dealer, "for each retail customer to whom a recommendation of any securities transaction or investment strategy involving securities is or will be provided," to make a record of the "identity of each natural person who is an associated person, if any, responsible for the account." The Commission assumes, for purposes of compliance with Rule 17a-3(a)(35), that broker-dealers will need to create a record, or modify an existing record, to identify the associated person, if any, responsible for the account in the context of Regulation Best Interest. For small broker-dealers, the use of outside counsel would result in a cost burden, which is discussed in Item 13 below. For large broker-dealers,⁴⁰ the Commission estimates that the initial burden will be 2 hours for each broker-dealer (1 hour for compliance personnel and 1 hour for legal personnel). The Commission therefore estimates the aggregate initial one-time burden for large broker-dealers to be approximately 2,756 burden hours.⁴¹ When annualized over three years, this equates to approximately 920 hours per year.

³⁸ 2,456 broker-dealers x 0.5 hours annually = 1,228 annual hours for recordkeeping

³⁹ The Commission estimates, for the purposes of this rule, that there are 1,378 large broker-dealers. Consequently, the Commission estimates that the remaining 1,078 broker-dealers are small broker-dealers.

Rule 17a-3(a)(35): Record of Identity of Associated Person Responsible for Account/ Individual Burden

As noted above, Rule 17a-3(a)(35) requires a broker-dealer, “for each retail customer to whom a recommendation of any securities transaction or investment strategy involving securities is or will be provided,” to make a record of the “identity of each natural person who is an associated person, if any, responsible for the account.” The Commission estimates that for the first year after Regulation Best Interest is in effect, registered representatives associated with each of the 2,456 broker-dealer respondents will spend an additional 0.04 hours (or 0.0133333 hours per year when annualized over three years) per each of its retail customer accounts to fill out the information in the account disclosure document. The Commission estimates that each broker-dealer will incur this burden for approximately 86,726 accounts per year.⁴² The Commission continues to believe that there are no ongoing costs and burdens associated with this record-keeping requirement of Rule 17a-3(a)(35). As a result, the total annual estimated recordkeeping burden associated with the Identity of Associated Person Responsible for the Account requirement is approximately 2,839,980 hours for all broker-dealer respondents.⁴³

Rule 17a-3(a)(35): Record of Oral Disclosure

In cases where broker-dealers choose to meet part of the Disclosure Obligation orally under the circumstances outlined in Section II.C.1 of the Regulation Best Interest Adopting Release, the Commission believes the requirement to maintain a record of the fact that oral disclosure was provided to the retail customer will trigger a record-making obligation under paragraph (a)(35) and the Commission estimates that this would take place among 52% of a broker-dealer’s retail customer accounts (and thus 52% of a registered representative’s retail customer accounts) annually. The Commission estimates that there are currently approximately 213 million retail customer accounts. Consequently, the Commission estimates the total hour burden associated with the record of oral disclosure requirement of Rule 17a-3(a)(35) to be 2,215,214 hours per year.⁴⁴

Burdens Associated with Rule 17a-3 Related to Security-Based Swap Activities

⁴¹ This estimate is based on the following calculation: (2 burden hours per broker-dealer) x (1,378 large broker-dealers) = 2,756 aggregate burden hours per year.

⁴² For the purposes of this rule, the Commission assumes that each broker-dealer has 86,726 retail customer accounts (i.e., (213 million retail customer accounts) / (2,456 broker-dealers).

⁴³ (2,456 broker-dealers) x (0.0133333) x (86,726 retail customer accounts) = 2,839,980 hours.

⁴⁴ For the purposes of this rule, the Commission assumes that each broker-dealer has 86,726 retail customer accounts (i.e., (213 million retail customer accounts) / (2,456 broker-dealers). The Commission further assumes that 52% of the 86,726 retail customer accounts per broker-dealer would trigger the record-making obligation, or (0.52 x 86,726) = 45,098 retail customer accounts per broker-dealer. Thus, the Commission estimates the burden to be: (45,098 affected retail customer accounts) x (0.02 hours for recording each oral disclosure relating to a retail customer’s account) x (2,456 broker-dealers) = 2,215,214 hours.

Security-Based Swap Activities – Paragraphs (a)(1), (a)(3), (a)(5), (a)(6), (a)(7), (a)(8), (a)(9), (a)(26), and (a)(27): Paragraphs (a)(1), (a)(3), (a)(5), (a)(6), (a)(7), (a)(8), (a)(9), (a)(26), and (a)(27) of Rule 17a-3 include a provision requiring broker-dealers to make and keep current various records for security-based swaps.⁴⁵ The Commission estimates that the provisions of paragraphs (a)(1), (a)(3), (a)(5), (a)(6), (a)(7), (a)(8), (a)(9), (a)(26), and (a)(27) of Rule 17a-3 related to security-based swaps impose on each broker-dealer that engages in security-based swap activities an initial burden of approximately 70 hours in the first year (approximately 23.33 hours per year when annualized over three years) and an ongoing burden of approximately 10 minutes per business day, or about 43.5 hours per year (including the first year).⁴⁶ The Commission estimates that there are 21 respondents—7 broker-dealer SBSBs, 13 non-SBSB/MSBSP broker-dealers that are engaged in security-based swap activities, and 1 broker-dealer MSBSP that the Commission believes could register in the future.⁴⁷ Thus, these provisions add to the industry an average of approximately 1,337 burden hours per year ($23.33 + 43.5 = 66.83$, and $66.83 \times 21 = 1,403.43$ rounded down to 1,403).

Broker-Dealer SBSBs and Broker-Dealer MSBSPs – Paragraphs (a)(25), (a)(28), and (a)(30): Paragraphs (a)(25), (a)(28), and (a)(30) require three additional types of records to be made and kept current by broker-dealer SBSBs and broker-dealer MSBSPs.⁴⁸ The Commission estimates that paragraphs (a)(25), (a)(28), and (a)(30) of Rule 17a-3 impose an initial burden of 60 hours per firm in the first year (20 hours per firm per year when annualized over three years) and an ongoing annual burden of approximately 75 hours per firm in each year (including the first year). The Commission estimates that there are 8 respondents (7 broker-dealer SBSBs and 1 broker-dealer MSBSP). Thus, these provisions add to the industry an average of approximately burden hours per year ($20 + 75 = 95$ and $95 \times 8 = 760$).

Broker-Dealer SBSBs Only – Paragraph (a)(29): Paragraph (a)(29) of Rule 17a-3 requires certain records relating to political contributions to be made and kept current by broker-dealer SBSBs.⁴⁹ The Commission estimates that paragraph (a)(29) of Rule 17a-3, as amended, imposes an initial burden of approximately 20 hours per firm in the first year (approximately 6.67 hours per firm per year when annualized over three years) and an ongoing annual burden of approximately 25 hours per firm in each year (including the first year). The Commission estimates that there are 7 broker-dealer SBSBs. Thus, this paragraph adds to the industry an average of approximately 222 burden hours per year ($6.67 + 25 = 31.67$ and $31.67 \times 7 = 221.69$, rounded up to 222).

⁴⁵ The requirements for securities other than security-based swaps largely mirror existing requirements. See paragraphs (a)(1), (a)(3), (a)(5)(i), (a)(6)(i), (a)(7)(i), (a)(8)(i), and (a)(9)(i)-(iii) of Rule 17a-3, as amended. The adopted requirements relating to security-based swap activity are tailored to such activity. See paragraphs (a)(1), (a)(3), (a)(5)(ii), (a)(6)(ii), (a)(7)(ii), (a)(8)(ii), and (a)(9)(iv) of Rule 17a-3, as amended.

⁴⁷ $6 \text{ broker-dealer SBSBs} + 1 \text{ broker-dealer MSBSP} + 13 \text{ non-SBSB/MSBSP broker-dealers engaged in security-based swap activities} = 20 \text{ broker-dealers engaged in security-based swap activities}$.

⁴⁸ See Rule 17a-3, as amended (recordkeeping requirements for Rule 17a-3 calculations (paragraph (a)(25)), unverified transactions (paragraph (a)(28)), and compliance with business conduct requirements (paragraph (a)(30)).

⁴⁹ See paragraph (a)(29) of Rule 17a-3, as amended (political contributions).

In summary, the aggregate annual hour burden attributed to Rule 17a-3 is approximately 8,342,195 hours broken down as set forth in the following table:

13. Costs to Respondents

The Commission estimates that the aggregate cost burden of the information collection requirements associated with Rule 17a-3 is approximately $105,320,999 per year, calculated as follows:

Rule 17a-3(a)(17) – providing updated information to customers

Ongoing operation and maintenance costs include the cost of postage to provide customers with account information, and costs for equipment and systems development. The Commission estimates that under Rule 17a-3(a)(17), approximately 94,366,674 customers (69,901,240 account records⁵⁰ + 13,980,248 updated account records⁵¹ + 10,485,186 updated account records for customers that will initiate changes to their account records on a yearly basis, with no prompting from any account record mailing⁵²) will need to be provided with information regarding their account on a yearly basis. Firms may include this information with other communications sent to customers, for instance in customer account statements. In response to requests for comment relating to the 2001 Amendments, those firms that provided estimates of postage costs indicated that postage costs to provide customers with account record information would be about $0.244 per item mailed.⁵³ However, postage costs have increased since that

⁵¹ This figure is based on the number of active customer accounts that receive their account record (69,901,240) times .20, since the Commission estimates that 20% of customers that receive their account record will update their account record information.

⁵² This figure is based on the number of active customer accounts (209,703,720) times 0.05, since 5% of customers update their account record information each year.

time. The current estimate for postage costs is $0.45.⁵⁴ Consequently, the Commission estimates that the postage costs associated with providing 94,366,674 customers with copies of their account record information would be approximately $42,465,003 per year ($94,366,674 \times \0.45). These costs are recordkeeping and third party disclosure burdens, with an assumption that the burden is split evenly between the two burden types.

Ongoing Cost for Equipment and Systems Development

At the time of the 2001 Amendments, Large Broker-Dealers that provided cost information estimated that their ongoing, yearly costs for equipment and systems development resulting from Rule 17a-3 would be approximately \$0.25 per customer account. The Commission believes that the additional cost for smaller broker-dealers is included in the increased hourly burden costs delineated above.⁵⁵ However costs for equipment and systems development have increased since 2001. Consequently, the Commission believes that the total ongoing equipment and systems development costs relating to Rule 17a-3 for the industry would be about \$95,499,074 per year ($207,606,683$ active customer accounts held by the 51 Large Broker-Dealers $\times$ $\$0.46$ ⁵⁶), or an annual cost burden of approximately \$ for each of the 49 Large Broker-Dealers. This cost is a recordkeeping burden.

Rule 17a-3(a)(23) Part 1

With respect to paragraph (a)(23) of Rule 17a-3, a broker-dealer is required to document its liquidity, credit, and market risk management controls, if it has established such controls. These broker-dealers may incur one-time startup costs to hire outside counsel to review the documented controls to ensure the broker-dealer is meeting the requirements of the rule. Based on staff experience with similar reviews, the Commission estimates that 529 broker-dealers would incur $2,000 in legal costs,⁵⁷ or $1,058,000, in the aggregate, initial one-time recordkeeping burden to review and comment on the documented risk management controls.⁵⁸ For purposes of this supporting statement, the one-time cost of $1,058,000 annualized over the three-year approval period is approximately $352,667,⁵⁹ with an average cost per respondent of approximately $666.67.⁶⁰

⁵⁴ The CPI has increased by about 84% since the end of 2001. $($0.244 \times 1.84) = \0.45 . In addition, postage costs have increased. Therefore, the Commission is increasing the estimate to $0.45.

⁵⁶ The CPI has increased by about 84% since the end of 2001. $($0.25 \times 1.84) = \0.46

⁵⁷ The Commission staff estimates that the review of the documented controls would require 5 hours of outside counsel time at a cost of $400 per hour.

⁵⁸ $$2,000 \times 529$ broker-dealers = $1,058,000.

⁵⁹ $$1,058,000 / 3$ years = $352,666.67 rounded up to $352,667.

⁶⁰ $$352,667 / 529$ firms = $666.666016 rounded up to 666.67.

Rule 17a-3(a)(35): Record of Identity of Associate Person Responsible for Account/ Firm Burden

To meet the requirement under Rule 17a-3(a)(35) to make a record of the “identity of each natural person who is an associated person, if any, responsible for the account,” the Commission believes that small broker-dealers will require, on average, approximately 1 hour per year for outside legal counsel, at an updated average rate of $497/hour, for an average annual cost of $497 for each small broker-dealer to update an account disclosure document. The projected aggregate annual cost for small broker-dealers is therefore estimated to be $per year, or (1,078 x $497).

In summary, the total cost burden associated with Rule 17a-3 is approximately $138,852,510 per year, broken down as indicated below.⁶¹

14. Costs to Federal Government

There will be no additional costs to the Federal Government.

⁶¹ This includes an annual postage costs of $42,465,003 and ongoing equipment and systems development costs of $95,499,074 per year.

15. Changes in Burden

The annual hour burden has changed primarily due to an increase in the number of customer accounts held by broker-dealers (from 240,576,070 to 290,046,639). While the number of broker-dealers registered with the Commission decreased from 3,528 to 3,342, the reduced burdens associated with rules based on the number of registered broker-dealers did not outweigh the increase in burdens associated with rules based on the number of accounts. The net result has been an increase in the annual hour burden from approximately 8,342,195 hours to approximately 9,818,416 hours, a change of 1,476,221 hours per year. The annual cost burden increased due to inflation, increases in postage costs, and increase in the number of customer accounts. The overall impact of these changes has been an increase in the cost burden of $33,531,511, going from $105,320,999 to $138,852,510 per year. These changes are summarized in the tables below.
