

INFORMATION SHEET AND CONSENT FORM FOR VOLUNTARY PARTICIPATION
Parent or Guardian of Youth Participants

Sponsored by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services

INTRODUCTION

The Administration for Children and Families (ACF) is part of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. ACF is working with Mathematica, an independent research organization, to test two lessons from the Digital Citizenship curriculum. Digital Citizenship is an Internet safety curriculum developed by Common Sense Education and Project Zero at the Harvard Graduate School of Education. The two lessons being tested were adapted for youth with intellectual and developmental disabilities. The lessons help youth navigate online interactions and build healthy and rewarding friendships both online and off. [IMPLEMENTING ORGANIZATION NAME] is taking part in the study. A teacher at [IMPLEMENTING ORGANIZATION NAME] will teach the lessons during your child's class.

WHAT IS THE STUDY ASKING ME AND MY CHILD TO DO?

We are asking permission for your child to be in a 1-hour focus group after your child's class receives the lessons. A focus group is a discussion that Mathematica staff will guide with youth in the class. During the focus group, your child and the other youth can share their thoughts about the lessons and how much they liked them. They can also share their ideas for how the lessons could be better. We will not ask your child about their own behavior.

Your child's point of view is very important for this work. If for some reason we cannot do a focus group at [IMPLEMENTING ORGANIZATION NAME], we will ask your child to do a short interview. The interview questions will be the same as the focus group questions.

HOW WILL THE STUDY KEEP MY CHILD'S INFORMATION PRIVATE?

If you choose to let your child take part, we will group your child's answers to the questions with the answers from other youth. Your child's name will not be attached to the answers they give. We will use only first names during the discussion. Also, Mathematica staff will ask youth in the focus group to keep the discussion private, but we can't guarantee that they will do so.

We will keep everything your child tells us private unless it's required by law. That means no one outside of the study team will see your child's answers. With your child's permission, we will audio-record the discussion. Any child who does not agree to audio-record the discussion can still participate without being recorded. The recording will be destroyed after we have checked our written notes. We might share recorded answers with outside partners to transcribe notes, but no names will be attached.

ARE THERE ANY BENEFITS TO BEING IN THIS STUDY?

While there is no direct benefit to you or your child, you will be learning about Internet safety helping with the development of lessons about Internet safety for youth with intellectual and developmental disabilities.

ARE THERE ANY RISKS TO BEING IN THIS STUDY?

The only risk to your child is that they might be uncomfortable answering some questions. If that happens, your child does not have to answer any questions that they do not want to answer. Your child may also stop participating in the discussion at any point. There are no right or wrong answers to our questions.

DO I HAVE A CHOICE ABOUT BEING PART OF THIS STUDY?

You and your child have a choice whether to be part of this discussion. There are no penalties or consequences for not taking part. Your child can also choose not to answer our questions or may stop taking part at any time. Your child can still receive the Internet safety lessons even if they choose not to take part in the study.

WHEN IS THE STUDY TAKING PLACE? HOW LONG WILL IT LAST?

The focus group or interview will take place on [DATE] at [TIME] at [LOCATION]. The focus group or interview will last no more than 1 hour.
