What is the beneficiary's highest level of education?

Select one -
No diploma
High school graduate diploma or the equivalent (for example: GED)
Some college credit, but less than 1 year
One or more years of college, no degree
Associate's degree (for example: AA, AS)
Bachelor's degree (for example: BA, AB, BS)
Master's degree (for example: MA, MS, MEng, MEd, MSW, MBA)
Professional degree (for example: MD, DDS, DVM, LLB, JD)
Doctorate degree (for example: PhD, EdD)

What is the beneficiary's rate of pay per year?

The "rate of pay" is the salary or wages paid to the beneficiary. Salary or wages must be expressed in an annual full-time amount and do not include non-cash compensation or benefits. For example, an H-1B worker is to be paid $6,500 per month for a 4-month period and also provided separately a health benefits package and transportation during the 4-month period. The yearly rate of pay if he or she were working for a full year would be 12 times the monthly rate, or $78,000. This amount does not include health benefits or transportation costs. The figure $78,000 should be entered on this form as the rate of pay.

What is the DOT Code for the position?

What is the NAICS Code for the business?

This is the North American Industry Classification System (NAICS) Code. You can use this link to obtain the code number from the U.S. Department of Commerce, Census Bureau.

Provide a 6-digit code. If your code has fewer than 6 digits, enter the code left to right and then add zeros in the remaining unoccupied boxes. For example, if your code sequence is 33466, you should enter it as 334660.

You have successfully submitted your Form I-129 H-1B

You may use your receipt number to track your case and see all USCIS notices in your myUSCIS account. We will notify you by email and/or text message with any updates.

Track your case online

You can track your case status through your USCIS online account. Sign in to your account often to check your case status and read any important messages from USCIS.

Respond to requests for information

If we need more information from you, we will send you a Request for Evidence (RFE) or Request for Information (RFI). You can respond to our request and upload your documents through your USCIS online account.

Submit evidence after applying

We encourage you to submit all your supporting evidence when you submit your application.

If you are providing evidence after you have submitted your application but before your interview, use the unsolicited evidence option on the Documents tab related to the Form I-589 you submitted.

You may amend or supplement your application before or at the time of your asylum interview with an asylum officer and at your hearing in immigration court by providing additional information and explanations about your asylum claim. For asylum applications filed with USCIS, submit any documentary evidence at least 14 calendar days before your interview with an asylum officer. We may grant extensions to submit additional evidence on a discretionary basis. We will treat these extensions as an applicant-caused delay when adjudicating your asylum application. If you are presenting evidence during your interview, you must provide two copies of each document. If a document is in a foreign language, you must provide a full English translation of it and a translator's certification. You may also present other document types, including audio and video tapes, during your interview.
