Overview

Join NASA to participate online for NASA's Artemis II Mission.

Virtual guests for this launch will receive curated mission resources, stay informed with the latest updates, and receive commemorative stamps for their virtual guest passport after both liftoff and splashdown—all delivered straight to their inbox.

Join us as a NASA virtual guest for the agency's first crewed Artemis mission!

Targeted to launch in early 2026, the Artemis II test flight will send NASA astronauts Reid Wiseman, Victor Glover, Christina Koch, and CSA (Canadian Space Agency) astronaut Jeremy Hansen on an approximately 10-day journey around the Moon and back.

The crew will lift off from the agency's Kennedy Space Center in Florida inside NASA's Orion spacecraft on the agency's powerful (SLS) Space Launch System rocket to help confirm the systems and hardware needed for human deep space exploration.

As part of a Golden Age of innovation and exploration, Artemis will pave the way for new U.S.-crewed missions on the lunar surface in preparation toward the first crewed mission to Mars.
