	[yellow alert] [library display on overview page]		[yellow alert] [library display on overview page]		[yellow alert] [Only certain applicants may apply for asylum online with USCIS with this form. Failure to follow applicable instructions may result in rejection of your online application and/or a filing date.] [0] [Please review the following statements and select any that apply to you:] I am currently in proceedings in immigration court or before the Board of Immigration Appeals. To determine if you should file your Form I-589 with USCIS or the Executive Office for Immigration Review (EOIR), please see the Where to File section of the Form I-589 webpage and the Form I-589 instructions for more information. If you are unsure whether you are currently in proceedings before EOIR, please refer to the Form I-589 with USCIS, please file a paper Form I-589. I am among the category of applicants who must file my Form I-589 with USCIS, your completed paper Form I-589 must be mailed to the appropriate mailbox, which you can find in the Where to File section on the https://www.uscis.gov/form-i-589 webpage. I am among the category of applicants who must file my Form I-589 with the Asylum Waiting Center as outlined in the Special Instructions section of the Form I-589 webpage. I have already submitted a Form I-589 and it is pending before USCIS. I am resubmitting a Form I-589 that was previously rejected to obtain an updated receipt notice based on the settlement in Vargas et al. v. USCIS et al., No. 4:20-cv-08143 (N.D. Cal.). 			If any of the above statements apply to you, do not file online. If you submit your application online and it is later determined that one of the statements above applies to you, this may cause a delay in your case, or you may reject your Form I-589 and must go to submit your application by mail. Please review the Form I-589 instructions and the Form I-589 webpage for information on whether you need to submit your application for asylum by filing a paper Form I-589 .
Eligibility			You may apply for asylum if you: Submit an application for asylum within 1 year of arriving in the United States, unless there are changed circumstances that materially affect your eligibility for asylum or extraordinary circumstances directly related to your failure to file within 1 year. You may include in your application your spouse and unmarried children who are under 21 years of age and physically present in the United States. You must submit certain documents for your spouse and each child included as required by these instructions. Children 21 years of age or older and married children must file separate applications. If you are granted asylum and your spouse and/or any unmarried children under 21 years of age are outside the United States, Refugee and Asylum Relative Petition, for them to gain certain benefits. You are not eligible to apply for asylum with USCIS if you previously applied and were denied by an immigration judge (unless you can show that circumstances have changed) which affect your eligibility for asylum.	You may apply for asylum if you: Submit an application for asylum within 1 year of arriving in the United States, unless there are changed circumstances that materially affect your eligibility for asylum or extraordinary circumstances directly related to your failure to file within 1 year. Failure to file the Form I-589 within 1 year of your last arrival in the United States may also deny your eligibility for employment authorization or result in the denial of your application for employment authorization. You may include in your application your spouse and unmarried children who are under 21 years of age and physically present in the United States. You must submit certain documents for your spouse and each child included as required by these instructions. Children 21 years of age or older and married children must file separate applications. If you are granted asylum and your spouse and/or any unmarried child or child under 21 years of age are outside the United States, you may file the Form I-755, Refugee and Asylum Relative Petition, for them to gain similar benefits. You are not eligible to apply for asylum with USCIS if you previously applied and were denied by an immigration judge (unless you can show that circumstances have changed) which affect your eligibility for asylum.		https://www.uscis.gov/i-589 https://www.uscis.gov/links/default.asp?menu=humanitarian/i-589.pdf https://www.uscis.gov/form-i-589 https://www.uscis.gov/i-589/money-another-i-589 https://www.uscis.gov/links/default.asp?menu=humanitarian/i-589.pdf
			Fee $0 Refund Policy: USCIS does not refund fees, regardless of any action we take on your application, petition or request, or how long USCIS takes to reach a decision. By continuing this transaction, you acknowledge that you must submit fees in the exact amount and that you are paying the fees for a government service. Please refer to the instructions for the form(s) you are filing for additional information, or you may call the USCIS Contact Center at 800-375-5283. Risk of Removal			WARNINGS – IMPORTANT NOTICE Removal from the United States – Applicants in the United States unlawfully are subject to removal if their asylum or withholding claims are not granted by an asylum officer or an immigration judge. Use of Information in Your Application – Any information provided in completing this application may be used as a basis for the initiation of, or as evidence in, removal proceedings, even if the application is later withdrawn. Fraudulent Applications – Applicants determined to have knowingly made a fraudulent application for asylum will be permanently ineligible for any benefits under the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA). They may not avoid a fraudulent finding simply because someone advised they to provide false information in your asylum application. If Filing with U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS), unexcused failure to appear for an appointment or to provide biometrics (such as fingerprints) and other biographical information within the time allowed may delay eligibility for employment authorization and result in an asylum officer declining your asylum application or referring this an immigration judge. Applicants and eligible dependents in removal proceedings who fail without good cause to provide USCIS with their fingerprints or their biographical information as required within the time allowed may have their applications found abandoned by the immigration judge. See section 208(US)(A) and 209(a)(3) of the INA and 8 Code of Federal Regulations (8 CFR) sections 208.13, 208.15, 208.30, 1005.47(a), and 1208.30.			https://www.uscis.gov/links/default.asp?menu=humanitarian/i-589.pdf https://www.uscis.gov/i-589
			Right to legal representation: Immigration law concerning asylum and withholding of removal is difficult to comply with. You have a right to provide your own legal representation or an asylum interviewer and during immigration proceedings before the Immigration Court as set forth in the U.S. Government. For help completing this form and preparing your evidence, there are attorneys and voluntary agencies available for no fee or a reduced fee. Please refer to this link .	Right to Counsel: Immigration law concerning asylum and withholding of removal is difficult to comply with. You have a right to obtain and provide your own legal representation at an asylum interview and during immigration proceedings before the Immigration Court as set forth in the U.S. Government. Immigrant Asylum Application: USCIS will issue a receipt notice for an asylum application properly filed under 8 CFR section 202. If USCIS rejects your application, we will return the application with a rejection notice explaining the reasons for rejection. You may correct the deficiencies and refile your application. If you filed your asylum application with USCIS, you can check the status of your application on the USCIS website. The filing and acceptance by USCIS of a complete application starts the 365 calendar-day period you must wait before you may apply for employment authorization. If your application is not complete and is returned to you, the 365-calendar-day period will not begin until you resubmit, and USCIS accepts, a properly filed application.		https://www.uscis.gov/links/default.asp?menu=humanitarian/i-589.pdf https://www.uscis.gov/i-589
Additional Information			Employment authorization: You will be granted employment authorization (permission to work in the U.S.) if your asylum application is granted. Simply filing an application for asylum does not entitle you to employment authorization. You may request permission to work if your asylum application is pending and 150 days have passed since your application was accepted by USCIS or the Immigration Court. See 8 CFR sections 208.7(a)(5) and 1208.7(a)(5)(1). Any delay in the processing of your asylum application that you request or cause will not be counted as part of the 150-day period. If your asylum application has not been denied within 365 days from the date of filing a complete asylum application, you may be granted permission to work by filing Form I-765, Application for Employment Authorization , with USCIS. Follow the instructions on that application and submit a copy of evidence as specified in the instructions that you have a pending asylum application. Each family member included in your application who wants permission to work must submit a separate Form I-765. If you are granted asylum, you will be allowed to work in the United States and do not have to apply for employment authorization. You can apply for an Employment Authorization Document (work permit) if you want evidence that you are allowed to work in the United States as a result of being granted asylum.	Employment authorization while your asylum application is pending: You will be granted permission to work in the U.S. if your asylum application is granted. Simply filing an application for asylum does not entitle you to employment authorization to work in the United States. You must wait to apply for employment authorization until your asylum application has been pending with USCIS or the Immigration Court for 365 calendar days. If 365 calendar days have elapsed since you properly filed your asylum application and USCIS or the Immigration Court accepted it, and your asylum application remains pending, you may request employment authorization by filing Form I-765, Application for Employment Authorization. See 8 CFR section 208.7(a)(5). You cannot apply for employment authorization if USCIS or the Immigration Court denies your Form I-589 before the expiration of the 365-calendar-day period. If your asylum application is still pending with USCIS or the Immigration Court after 365 calendar days, you may apply for employment authorization. Please review the Form I-765, Employment Authorization Document Application Instructions prior to filing an application for employment authorization based on a pending asylum application. Please also review Instructions to ensure that USCIS is receiving employment authorization applications based on a pending asylum application for more information on employment authorization documents, see Form I-765 Instructions. Each family member included in your asylum application who wants an employment authorization document must submit a separate Form I-765.		https://www.uscis.gov/links/default.asp?menu=humanitarian/i-589.pdf https://www.uscis.gov/i-589
			Asylum Process File the I-589 When you submit your Form I-589 and evidence online, you will immediately receive a receipt notice. We will notify you via email and/or text message with any updates. Attend your biometric services appointment After submitting your application, you will receive a biometric services appointment notice. At the appointment, you will provide your fingerprints, photograph, and signature so that USCIS can verify your identity and conduct background and security checks, including a check of criminal history records maintained by the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), before making a decision on your application. Attend your interview After submitting your application, you will receive a notice for your asylum interview. If you do not speak English fluently, you must bring an interpreter with you to your interview. Your interpreter must be at least 18 years of age and be fluent in English and your language.
Evidence			Receive your asylum decision At the end of your asylum interview, we will let you know how you will receive the decision in your case. As part of applying for asylum, you must provide evidence to support your application. These documents help us determine if you are eligible for asylum and verify your answers. Do not send an original document in the mail. Provide legible copies of your documents unless we later ask for original documents. You may attend or supplement your application before or at the time of your asylum interview with an asylum officer and at your hearing in Immigration Court by providing additional information and explanations about your asylum claim. For asylum applications filed with USCIS, submit any documentary evidence no less than 14 calendar days before your interview with an asylum officer. Consistent to submit additional evidence may be granted by USCIS in a short-response phase. Any such extension will be treated as an applicant-caused delay in the adjudication of your asylum application. Any applicant-caused delay will result in denial of your application for employment authorization if the delay is unexcused at the time you file for employment authorization. See 8 CFR section 208.7. Readable Scan or take pictures of each document. Make sure each image you upload is clear and readable. Translation If any document containing foreign language submitted to USCIS must be accompanied by a full English language translation that the translator has certified as complete and accurate, and by the translator's certification that he or she is competent to translate from the foreign language into English. File requirements Accepted file formats: .JPG, .JPEG, or .PDF. Do not upload encrypted or password-protected files. Required documents Dependent Identification For each family member you are including in your application as a dependent (spouse or children), you must upload proof of their identity and your relation to them. For all other family members, uploading identity documents is optional. Documents you may provide Personal Identification Upload a copy of each page (cover to cover) of your passport, other travel documents, and any U.S. immigration documents. We recommend you upload other identification if you have it, such as a birth certificate, military or national identification card, or driver's license. You may be asked to bring the originals of your and your family's identification documents to the interview.
