Request for OMB Approval for Non-Substantive Revisions to the Forms Relating to FDIC Outside Counsel, Legal Support and Expert Services Programs Information Collection (OMB Control No. 3064-0122)

Forms: Representations and Certifications for Legal Contractors (FDIC Form No. 5200-01); and Representations and Certifications for Experts and Legal Support Services Providers (FDIC Form 5210-09)

Justification: The FDIC is revising two forms relating to its Outside Counsel, Legal Support and Expert Services Programs. The revisions are non-substantive inasmuch as the added provisions are not considered information collections pursuant to 5 CFR 1320.3(h) as they are all certifications. These provisions are being included in form that have been cleared by OMB as a matter of efficiency to keep all certifications related to legal services contracting together. The addition of these certifications does not change the estimated time per response for these forms. There are no substantive changes to the forms which continue to collect the same information currently approved by OMB.
