TITLE OF INFORMATION COLLECTION: NIST CNST NanoFab external user project application

PURPOSE: The National Institute of Standards and Technology (NIST)/Center for Nanoscale Science and Technology (CNST) enables science and industry by providing essential measurement methods, instrumentation, and standards to support all phases of nanotechnology development from discovery to production. The Nanofabrication Operations Group of the CNST has the mission of advancing measurement science by developing novel nanofabrication and nanomanufacturing techniques. Our capabilities are accessible as a shared resource for internal NIST research programs and external stakeholders from academia, industry, or other government laboratories.

We seek clearance for an online NanoFab project application that will be used to collect information from our external stakeholders. The online application will streamline the project information gathering process for the CNST NanoFab and our external stakeholders.

DESCRIPTION OF RESPONDENTS:

The respondents are comprised of the CNST external stakeholders from academia, industry, and other government laboratories. These researchers initiate projects that allow them access to the CNST NanoFab to create and measure nanoscale devices.
