Chafee Strengthening Outcomes for the Transition to Adulthood (Chafee SOTA) Evaluation Consent to Contact Form

Westat, a research organization located in Bethesda, MD, and the Kempe Center for the Prevention and Treatment of Child Abuse and Neglect at the University of Colorado has been hired by the Administration for Children and Families to conduct a study of the services available to young adults aged 18-21 with foster care experience. Participation in the study involves private surveys with participants about their experiences requesting and receiving assistance. Your participation in this study is entirely voluntary.

You could receive up to $215 for your participation in this study as a thank you for your time and effort.

If you want to hear more about the study and see if you are eligible to participate, I need to have your permission to give your name and contact information to the research team. The team will reach out to you with more information about the study. You can then decide if you want to participate or not – it is totally up to you. Your decision does not affect any services you receive.

If you are interested in hearing more about the study, please fill out the information below so that we may contact you:
