

Instructions for Petition by Investor to Remove Conditions on Permanent Resident Status

Department of Homeland Security
U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services

USCIS
Form I-829
OMB No. 1615-0045
Expires 03/31/2027

What Is the Purpose of Form I-829?

Form I-829 is for immigrant investors to:

1. Petition to remove the conditions on their (and certain dependents'), permanent resident status which they obtained based on investment in a new commercial enterprise; or
2. Request an extension of their conditional permanent resident status for an additional year to create the jobs required to establish eligibility to remove conditions.

When Must I File Form I-829?

1. Filing to remove conditions after two years of conditional permanent resident status or to extend conditional permanent resident status for a third year to establish the necessary job creation. You must submit this petition within the 90-day period immediately preceding the second anniversary of obtaining conditional permanent resident status.
2. Filing to remove conditions two years after a subsequent investment made to retain eligibility. If you made a subsequent investment to retain eligibility under the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA) section 203(b)(5)(M), you must file this petition within the 90-day period preceding the second anniversary of the subsequent investment.
3. Filing to remove conditions after receiving an additional year to create necessary jobs. If you are filing to remove your conditions after receiving an additional year of conditional permanent resident status, you must file this form within 30 days after the third anniversary of obtaining conditional permanent resident status.

What Happens When I File or Fail to File Form I-829?

Effect of Filing

If U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) accepts your petition before your conditional permanent resident status is terminated, the validity of your Permanent Resident Card will automatically be extended for the period indicated on your filing receipt. You will receive a filing receipt that you should carry with your Permanent Resident Card. If you travel outside the United States while this petition is pending, you will have to show, when you board a plane, ship, or other carrier to come back to the United States, that you are eligible to return. You should present both your Permanent Resident Card and the filing receipt for this petition when you return, as well as in all other situations in which you are required to provide evidence of your conditional permanent resident status.

Effect of Not Filing

If you do not file this petition within your required timeframe, USCIS will terminate your conditional permanent resident status and you will become removable from the United States. However, if your failure to file within that period was for good cause and due to extenuating circumstances, you may file your petition late with a written explanation and request that USCIS, in its discretion, excuse your late filing.

Who May File Form I-829?

You may use this form to request the removal of conditions on your permanent resident status if you were granted conditional permanent resident status as an immigrant investor. You may also use this form to request an extension of your conditional permanent resident status for a third year to create the jobs required to establish eligibility to remove conditions.

You may include your conditional permanent resident spouse or former spouse and children in your petition. If your spouse and children are not included on this Form I-829 petition, each dependent must file their own petition separately. Your spouse and children cannot be included together on a Form I-829 petition if they are not filing with you, the principal investor. However, the surviving spouse and children may be included together on a Form I-829 petition if the principal investor has died.

If you are the conditional permanent resident child of an investor and you have reached 21 years of age or married during the period of conditional permanent residency, or if you are the former conditional permanent resident spouse of an investor, who was divorced from the investor during the period of conditional permanent residence, you may still be included in the investor's petition or, if not included, you must file a separate petition.

NOTE: If you are filing a separate petition from the investor, you should attach a copy of the investor's Form I-797, Notice of Action, relating to their I-829 petition.

If you obtained conditional permanent resident status through your investor spouse or parent, and that spouse or parent has died, you may use this form to petition for removal of the conditions on your permanent resident status.

We recommend that you review your copy of your completed petition before you go to your biometric services appointment at a USCIS ASC. At your appointment, USCIS will allow you to complete the petition process only if you are able to confirm, under penalty of perjury, that all of the information in your petition is complete, true, and correct. If you are not able to make that attestation in good faith at that time, we will require you to return for another appointment.

What Evidence Must You Submit?

You must submit all evidence requested in these Instructions with your petition. If you fail to submit required evidence, USCIS may reject or deny your petition in accordance with 8 CFR 103.2(b)(1) and these Instructions.

1. Evidence of Conditional Permanent Resident Status

Submit a copy of the front and back of your Permanent Resident Card (Green Card) and copies of the Permanent Resident Cards for your spouse or former spouse and each child who is applying with you to remove the conditions on their permanent resident status.

2. Evidence Related to the Investor's Commercial Enterprise, Investments, and Job Creation

Submit and label the following types of evidence with your petition:

A. Evidence that the investor invested or was actively in the process of investing the requisite amount of capital. Such evidence must include bank statements of the petitioner and new commercial enterprise showing the transfer of the investor's capital to the new commercial enterprise and, if applicable, from the new commercial enterprise to any job-creating entity.

B. Evidence that the investor maintained their investment in the NCE for the necessary period depending on when the investor submitted their EB-5 immigrant visa petition (Form I-526 or Form I-526E).

Such evidence must include all relevant Federal and State income tax returns, quarterly tax returns, and tax forms (including Form K-1, Form 941, and Form 1065) over the applicable period and may include, but is not limited to, bank statements, invoices and receipts, contracts, and business licenses.

If you filed your EB-5 immigrant visa petition before March 15, 2022, this evidence must establish that you maintained your investment in the NCE for the two-year period of your conditional permanent residency.

If you filed your EB-5 immigrant visa petition on or after March 15, 2022, this evidence must establish that you maintained your investment in the NCE for at least two years.

C. Evidence that the investor's investment created or can be expected to create 10 full-time jobs for qualifying employees.

For standalone investors, such evidence must include payroll records and employment eligibility verification forms and may include, but is not limited to, tax documents or other probative evidence. If indirect job creation is claimed based upon reasonable methodologies, such evidence must include an updated comprehensive business plan, an updated economic impact analysis, and updated reasonable and transparent methodologies to establish job creation, and must also include evidence supporting the inputs used in such methodologies including, but is not limited to, payroll records, tax documents, invoices and receipts, purchase agreements, bank statements, or other probative evidence.

If you filed your EB-5 immigrant visa petition before March 15, 2022, this evidence must establish that the jobs have been created or will be created in a reasonable period. In the case of a troubled business, you must submit evidence that the NCE maintained the number of existing employees at no less than the pre-investment level during the period of your conditional permanent residence.

If you filed your EB-5 immigrant visa petition on or after March 15, 2022, this evidence must establish that the jobs have been or will be created before the third anniversary of obtaining conditional permanent resident status.

For regional center investors that filed their EB-5 immigrant visa petition on or after March 15, 2022, this should include evidence of ongoing association with the particular investment offering that has been amended by the regional center, which may include a copy of the Form I-956F amendment receipt notice. If the regional center does not file an amendment, then you must provide sufficient evidence of the required job creation, which may include an updated comprehensive business plan, an updated economic impact analysis, and updated reasonable and transparent methodologies and may also include evidence supporting the inputs used in such methodologies including, but is not limited to, payroll records, tax documents, invoices and receipts, purchase agreements, bank statements, or other probative evidence.

3. Evidence for Petitioners Filing as a Former Spouse or as a Spouse or Child Whose Investor Spouse or Parent has Died

- A. Your former spouse's, current spouse's, or parent's Permanent Resident Card (Green Card);
- B. Your former spouse's, current spouse's, or parent's divorce decree or death certificate if applicable; and
- C. Evidence listed above in "Evidence Related to the Investor's Commercial Enterprise, Investments, and Job Creation."

4. Evidence of Criminal History

If you have ever:

- A. Been arrested or detained by any law enforcement officer for any reason since becoming a conditional permanent resident, and no charges were filed, submit an original official statement by the arresting agency or applicable court order confirming that no charges were filed.
- B. Been arrested or detained by any law enforcement officer for any reason since becoming a conditional permanent resident, and charges were filed, or if charges were filed without an arrest, submit an original or court-certified copy of the complete incident record. The record must show the disposition for each incident (such as a dismissal order, conviction record, or acquittal order).
- C. Been convicted or placed in an alternative sentencing program or rehabilitative program (such as a drug treatment or community service program) since becoming a conditional permanent resident, submit an original or court-certified copy of the sentencing record for each incident. Also, submit evidence of the completion of the sentence, such as an original or certified copy of the probation or parole record or record of the completion of an alternative sentencing program or rehabilitative program.
- D. Had any arrest or conviction vacated, set aside, sealed, expunged, or otherwise removed from your or their record since becoming a conditional permanent resident, submit an original or court-certified copy of the court order removing the arrest or conviction. Submit an original statement from the court that no record exists of the arrest or conviction.

NOTE: You do not need to submit documentation for traffic offenses involving no arrest where the penalties were less than a $500 fine, points on a driver's license, or both. You must, however, submit documentation if a traffic incident involved alcohol or drugs, regardless of the penalty.
