SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service invites the public to comment on applications for permits under section 10(a)(1)(A) of the Endangered Species Act of 1973, as amended (ESA; 16 U.S.C. 1531 et seq.), and our regulations in the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) at 50 CFR part 17. Documents and other information submitted with the applications are available for review, subject to the requirements of the Privacy Act of 1974, as amended (5 U.S.C. 552a) and the Freedom of Information Act (5 U.S.C. 552).

Background

With some exceptions, the ESA prohibits take of listed wildlife species unless a Federal permit is issued that authorizes such take. A recovery permit issued by the Service under section 10(a)(1)(A) of the ESA authorizes the permittee to take endangered or threatened species while engaging in activities that are conducted for scientific purposes that promote recovery of species or for enhancement of propagation or survival of the species. These activities often include, but are not limited to, otherwise prohibited actions such as capturing, performing surveys, population monitoring, handling, collecting genetic or tissue samples, swabbing for disease, captive propagation, captive rearing, species research, banding, tracking, and using radio telemetry.

Permit Applications Available for Review and Comment

Section 10(c) of the ESA requires that the Service publish notice in the Federal Register of each application and invite submission from interested parties on permit applications prior to issuance. Accordingly, we invite local, State, Tribal, and Federal agencies and the public to submit written data, views, or arguments with respect to these applications. The comments and recommendations that will be most useful and likely to influence agency decisions are those supported by quantitative information or studies. Proposed activities in the following permit requests are for the recovery and enhancement of propagation or survival of the species in the wild. Applications are sorted by regional offices that have jurisdiction over specific geographic areas. Information regarding each of our regions can be found at: <https://www.fws.gov/about/regions>.

We invite comments on the following applications:
