September 2027 CIVIC ENGAGEMENT AND VOLUNTEERING SUPPLEMENT TO THE CURRENT POPULATION SURVEY

These questions will be used to create official government statistics that will allow scholars, government officials and policymakers to promote increased citizen activity in those places that need it. They will provide information on the extent to which people are active in their communities, such as communicating with one another on issues of public concern, and interacting with public institutions and private companies.

This month, we are interested in Volunteering and Civic activities, that is how people in America interact with and relate to each other, as well as how we work together to make changes in our communities and country.

SELF-RESPONSE QUESTIONS TO BE CLEARED

Note: As in previous waves, the 2027 CEV data collection will allow for both self- and proxy response. The U.S. Census Bureau is currently field testing an internet self-response mode for the core CPS module as part of modernization efforts. In the event that Census would like to pursue introducing an internet self-response mode to the CEV as early as September 2029, we request that the rephrased questions below be cleared now to expedite testing.
