Overview

An official website of the United States government. Here's how you know

I-485, Application To Register Permanent Residence Or Adjust Status

Form I-485, Application to Register Permanent Residence or Adjust Status, is for a person in the United States to apply for lawful permanent resident status (often referred to as a "Green Card").

You can only file online for certain eligibility categories

You can only file Form I-485 online as part of a concurrently filed adjustment of status package for immediate family. If you are eligible under another category, you must file a paper Form I-485. Learn more about eligibility categories.

1 Before You Start Your Application

Eligibility

You must be physically present in the United States to file this application. Additional eligibility requirements for adjustment of status may vary depending on the immigrant category in which you are applying. Learn more about adjustment of status eligibility categories.

You may apply as the person who directly qualifies for an immigrant category ("principal applicant") or, in some cases, as the spouse or the child of a principal applicant ("derivative applicant"). Whether you are a principal or derivative applicant, you must file your own Form I-485.

Under U.S. immigration law, you are a "child" if you are unmarried, under 21 years of age, and meet the definition of "child" found in the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA) and USCIS policy guidance. You may still be considered a child for immigration purposes even after turning 21 years of age if you qualify under the provisions of the Child Status Protection Act (CSPA) or other applicable provisions. Learn more about the CSPA.

Who May Not Be Eligible to Adjust Status?

Bars to Adjustment of Status

You are generally ineligible for adjustment of status under INA section 245(a) if one or more adjustment bars in the INA apply to you. See INA sections 245(a), (c), (d), and/or (e).

Exception Under INA section 245(i)

You may be able to adjust status under INA section 245(i) even if you are present in the United States without inspection and admission or parole, or are subject to one or more adjustment bars at INA section 245(c). Learn more about adjusting status under INA section 245(i). INA section 245(i) is not an immigrant category. In order to adjust status using INA section 245(i), you must be eligible for an immigrant visa under a family-based, employment-based, special immigrant, or Diversity Visa category.

Grounds of Inadmissibility

Immigration laws specify acts, conditions, and conduct that can make aliens ineligible for lawful permanent resident status. These acts, conditions, and conduct are established in INA section 212(a) and are called grounds of inadmissibility. For more information on the grounds of inadmissibility for specific immigrant categories, visit our USCIS Policy Manual page. If you are inadmissible, you may be eligible for a waiver of the ground of inadmissibility or another form of relief. If we approve your waiver application or grant another form of relief, USCIS may approve your application to adjust status, if you are otherwise eligible.

When Should I File Form I-485?

Principal Applicant

In general, if you are filing as a beneficiary of an immigrant visa petition (such as Form I-130, Petition for Alien Relative, Form I-140, Immigrant Petition for Alien Worker, or Form I-360, Petition for Amerasian, Widow(er), or Special Immigrant), you may file an adjustment application only after USCIS has approved your petition and an immigrant visa number is immediately available. There are, however, some immigrant categories that allow you to file Form I-485 before USCIS approves your petition (this is known as "concurrent filing"), provided that approval of the petition would make an immigrant visa number immediately available to you and you meet all other filing and eligibility requirements. Learn more about concurrent filing.

If you want to learn more about visas, you can visit our USCIS page for information on visa availability, or you can visit the Department of State (DOS) page to view the Visa Bulletin.

Derivative Adjustment Applicant

If you are currently the spouse or child of a principal applicant, you may file Form I-485 if an immigrant visa is immediately available to you and you meet all filing requirements. You may file at any of the following times:

- At the same time the principal applicant files Form I-485;
- After the principal applicant filed a Form I-485 that remains pending a final decision by USCIS;
- After USCIS approves the principal applicant's Form I-485, if the principal applicant is still a lawful permanent resident and if, at the time of the principal applicant's Form I-485 approval, you were the principal applicant's spouse or child; or
- After the principal applicant obtained an immigrant visa and entered the United States as a lawful permanent resident if the principal applicant is still a lawful permanent resident and, at the time of the principal applicant's entry, you were the principal applicant's spouse or child.

Generally, USCIS cannot approve your Form I-485 as a derivative applicant until the principal applicant obtains lawful permanent resident status. USCIS may approve an adjustment application for a U nonimmigrant, asylee, or refugee derivative before the principal applicant obtains lawful permanent resident status.

Form G-325A, Biographic Information

Form G-325A is no longer required. You do not need to submit a separate Form G-325A with this Form I-485.

Family-based applicants

Immediate Relative of a U.S. Citizen (Spouses, Unmarried Children Under 21 Years of Age, and Parents (if the U.S. Citizen is 21 Years of Age or Older)) (Form I-130) —

If you are an immediate relative, you may file your Form I-485 together with your Form I-130, while Form I-130 is pending, or after your Form I-130 is approved.

If the petitioning relative (your spouse, your son/daughter/parent) became a U.S. citizen after filing Form I-130 on your behalf, submit evidence of the petitioning relative's U.S. citizenship with your Form I-485. Visit our Checklist of Required Initial Evidence for Form I-485 page for information on required initial evidence for Form I-485 for immediate relatives.

Note: Derivative applicants are not allowed in this category.

Other Relative of a U.S. Citizen or Relative of a Lawful Permanent Resident Under the Family-Based Preference Categories (Form I-130) —

Family-based preference categories include:

- Unmarried sons and daughters (21 years of age and older) of U.S. citizens;
- Spouses;
- Unmarried children (under 21 years of age) and unmarried sons and daughters (21 years of age and older) of lawful permanent residents;
- Married sons and daughters of U.S. citizens; and
- Brothers and sisters of U.S. citizens (if the U.S. citizen is 21 years of age or older).

If an immigrant visa is immediately available, you may file your Form I-485 together with your Form I-130, while Form I-130 is pending, or after your Form I-130 is approved. Otherwise, you may file your Form I-485 only after your Form I-130 is approved and an immigrant visa is immediately available.

If the spouse or parent who filed the Form I-130 on your behalf becomes a U.S. citizen while your Form I-485 is pending, submit evidence of the spouse or parent's U.S. citizenship to the USCIS office with jurisdiction over your application.

If you are an unmarried son or daughter and your parent became a U.S. citizen after filing Form I-130 on your behalf, you normally would automatically convert to an immigrant preference category as an unmarried son or daughter of a U.S. citizen. However, you may opt out of the automatic conversion and stay in the immigrant preference category as an unmarried son or daughter of a lawful permanent resident. Visit our Child Status Protection Act (CSPA) page for more information on opting out of the automatic conversion.

Visit our Checklist of Required Initial Evidence for Form I-485 page for information on required initial evidence for Form I-485 for family-based preference category applicants.

Person Admitted to the United States as a Fiancé(e) or Child of a Fiancé(e) of a U.S. Citizen (Form I-129F) (K-1/K-2 Nonimmigrant) —

K-1 principals who marry their U.S. citizen I-129F petitioners within the requisite 90-day period after admission to the United States in K-1 status, and their K-2 children always have an immigrant visa immediately available, and therefore, can file Form I-485 as soon as the K-1 principal has married the U.S. citizen.

You must submit a copy of the marriage certificate to show that the K-1 nonimmigrant fiancé(e) married the U.S. citizen (Form I-129F petitioner) in the 90-day period. This additional requirement applies to both K-1 principal and K-2 derivative applicants.

Widow or Widower of a U.S. Citizen —

If you are the widow(er) of a deceased individual who was a U.S. citizen at the time of death, you may be eligible to file Form I-485.

If your U.S. citizen spouse did not file Form I-130 for you before their death, you may file Form I-360, Petition for Amerasian, Widow(er), or Special Immigrant, as long as you file Form I-360 no more than two years after the date your spouse died. You may file your Form I-485 together with your Form I-360, while your Form I-360 is pending, or after your Form I-360 is approved. Widow(er)s always have an immigrant visa immediately available once Form I-360 is approved.

Your U.S. citizen spouse may have filed Form I-130 for you before their death. In this case, you may file Form I-485 while Form I-130 is pending or after it is approved. If Form I-130 is approved, it will be considered an approved Form I-360.

When filing your Form I-485, you should provide a copy of the Form I-797, Approval Notice or Receipt for the Form I-130 filed on your behalf or the Form I-360 you filed (unless you are filing Form I-360 together with your Form I-485).

If You Leave the United States While Your Application Is Pending

If you are applying for adjustment of status under INA section 245, and you travel anywhere outside the United States (including brief visits to Canada or Mexico) while your application is pending, USCIS will consider your application as abandoned unless:

- Before you leave the United States, you obtain an Advance Parole Document by filing Form I-131, you depart and return to a Port of Entry, and are inspected and admitted or paroled upon your return;
- You are an H-1B/H-4, L/V or K3/K4 nonimmigrant who is maintaining lawful nonimmigrant status and you return with a valid H-1B/H-4, L, V, or K3/K4 nonimmigrant visa (if required); or
- You are a temporary protected status (TPS) beneficiary who travels with authorization under INA section 244(f)(3) and upon returning, you are inspected and admitted into TPS.

Penalties

If you knowingly and willfully falsify or conceal a material fact or submit a false document with your Form I-485, we will deny your Form I-485 and may deny any other immigration benefit. In addition, you will face severe penalties provided by law and may be subject to criminal prosecution.

Fee

We will automatically calculate the cost for you before you submit your application. For specific information about fees applicable to this form, see Form G-1055.

Fee waiver: If the form you want to file is eligible for a fee waiver, and you would like to request one, you must file by paper. If you are requesting a fee waiver, you cannot file online. You must file a paper version of both the Form I-912, Request for Fee Waiver and the form for the specific benefit you are requesting. You can review the fee waiver guidance at www.uscis.gov/feewaiver.

Refund policy: USCIS does not refund fees, regardless of any action we take on your application, petition, or request, or how long USCIS takes to reach a decision. By continuing this transaction, you acknowledge that you must submit fees in the exact amount and that you are paying the fees for a government service. Please refer to the instructions for the form(s) you are filing for additional information, or you may call the USCIS Contact Center at 800-375-5283. For TTY (deaf or hard of hearing) 800-767-1833.

Documents you may need

We will automatically determine which documents you should provide us as you fill out your application. At the time of filing, you must submit all evidence and supporting documentation listed.

You must submit all evidence requested in these instructions with your application. If you fail to submit required evidence, USCIS may reject or deny your application in accordance with 8 CFR 103.2(b)(1).

If you are unable to submit the required primary evidence (for example, a birth certificate or marriage certificate), you may provide secondary evidence (for example, church or school records) instead if you can explain why the primary evidence is unavailable. If you cannot submit secondary evidence, you may submit two or more affidavits, sworn to or affirmed by individuals who are not parties to the immigration benefit sought and who have direct personal knowledge of the event and circumstances. You must also explain why primary and secondary evidence are unavailable in accordance with 8 CFR 103.2(b)(2).

Biometric services appointment

USCIS may require you to appear for an interview or provide biometrics (fingerprints, photograph, and/or signature) at any time to verify your identity, obtain additional information, and conduct background and security checks, including a check of criminal history records maintained by the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), before making a decision on your application or petition. If we determine that a biometric services appointment is necessary, we will send you an appointment notice with the date, time, and location of your appointment. If you are currently overseas, your notice will instruct you to contact a U.S. Embassy, U.S. Consulate, or USCIS office outside the United States to schedule an appointment.

At your biometrics appointment, you must sign an oath reaffirming that:

1. You provided or authorized all information in the application;
2. You reviewed and understood all of the information contained in, and submitted with, your application; and
3. All of this information was complete, true, and correct at the time of filing.

If you do not attend your biometric services appointment, we may deny your application.

For applicants and dependents who appear before an immigration judge, failure to attend a biometric services appointment, without good cause, may result in the immigration judge finding that your application was abandoned, and USCIS may also deny any other application you filed with USCIS.

Disability Accommodations/Modifications

To request a disability accommodation/modification, follow the instructions on your appointment notice or on the Disability Accommodations for the Public page.

Selective Service

Most males between 18 and 26 years of age are required by the Military Selective Service Act to register with the Selective Service System. Learn more on our Selective Service System page. If USCIS approves your application, we will send your name, current address, Social Security number, date of birth, and the date you filed the application to the Selective Service System for registration.

Do you have an Alien Registration Number (A-Number)?

- (•) Yes
- ( ) No

What is your A-Number?

The A-Number is an immigration file number provided by U.S. immigration officials. We use your A-Number to identify your immigration records. It is a 7 to 9-digit number that begins with an “A” and can be found on correspondence or cards you have received from DHS, USCIS, or on immigration court records (for example, Form I-797, Receipt Notice; an Employment Authorization Document; a Permanent Resident Card). If you do not have an A-Number, USCIS may assign one to you.

Provide a 7, 8, or 9-digit number. If the A-Number is fewer than 9 digits, the system will automatically add zero(s) after the "A" and before the first digit so there is a total of 9 digits, for example: A-001234567.

A-

Have you ever used, or been assigned, any other A-Number?

Provide all of your other A-Numbers.

- (•) Yes
- ( ) No

Provide a 7, 8, or 9-digit number. If the A-Number is fewer than 9 digits, the system will automatically add zero(s) after the "A" and before the first digit so there is a total of 9 digits, for example: A-001234567.

+ Add A-Number

What is your USCIS Online Account Number?

You will only have an Online Account Number, or OAN, if you previously filed a form that has a receipt number that begins with IOE. If you filed the form online, you can find your OAN in your account profile. If you mailed us the form, you can find your OAN at the top of the Account Access Notice we sent you.

If you do not have a receipt number that begins with IOE, you do not have an OAN.

(The OAN is not the same as an A-Number.)

- [x] I do not have or know my USCIS Online Account Number.

Provide a 12-digit Online Account Number.

Note: USCIS will not share information with SSA if a Form I-485 is subject to Public Law 106-553, as amended by the LIFE Act Amendments, Public Law 106-544 (December 21, 2000).

Do you authorize disclosure of information from this application to the SSA as required for the purpose of assigning you an SSN and issuing you a Social Security Card?

What is your child's A-Number?

The A-Number is an immigration file number provided by U.S. immigration officials. We use your A-Number to identify your immigration records. It is a 7 to 9-digit number that begins with an "A" and can be found on correspondence or cards you have received from DHS, USCIS, or on immigration court records (for example, Form I-797, Receipt Notice; an Employment Authorization Document; a Permanent Resident Card). If you do not have an A-Number, USCIS may assign one to you.

Provide a 7, 8, or 9-digit number. If the A-Number is fewer than 9 digits, the system will automatically add zero(s) after the "A" and before the first digit so there is a total of 9 digits, for example: A-001234567.

☑ I do not have or know my child's A-Number.

What is your child's U.S. Social Security number (SSN)?

What is your child's relationship to you?

For example: biological child, stepchild, legally adopted child.

Is this child also applying now on a separate Form I-485?

○ Yes

○ No

Inspection And Admission Or Inspection And Parole

Upload an image of documents that prove your inspection and admission or inspection and parole into the United States. The evidence also must be related to the most recent arrival into the United States.

The following types of applicants do NOT need to submit documentation of inspection and admission or inspection and parole:

- Individuals applying under INA section 245(i).

Examples of evidence include:

- Passport page with admission or parole stamp (issued by a U.S. immigration officer);
- Passport page with nonimmigrant visa; or
- Form I-94, Arrival-Departure Record.

Note: If you were admitted to the United States by CBP at an airport or seaport after April 30, 2013, you may have been issued an electronic Form I-94 by CBP, instead of a paper Form I-94. Visit the CBP website to obtain a paper version of an electronic Form I-94. If you cannot obtain your Form I-94 from the CBP website, you may obtain it by filing Form I-102, Application for Replacement/Initial Nonimmigrant Arrival-Departure Record, with USCIS.

If you cannot produce this primary evidence, and DHS has no record of the admission or parole, USCIS will presume that you came into the United States without admission or parole.

You may, however, provide secondary evidence (such as records maintained in the ordinary course of business by any individual or organization other than DHS) to support your claim that you were admitted or paroled.

If no secondary evidence is available, you may submit separate written statements, signed under penalty of perjury under United States law, from yourself and from any other individuals who have personal knowledge of the circumstances of your claimed admission or parole. Any statement should explain in detail when and where you came into the United States; what travel documents you had, if any; whether you showed them to the immigration inspector; any questions the immigration inspector asked; and any other details about your claimed admission or parole.

If you are filing as a beneficiary of an immigrant visa petition, you must upload an image of Form I-797, Notice of Action, for your underlying visa petition as appropriate. The underlying visa petition is the basis for the immigrant category upon which you are applying for adjustment of status.

- A copy of the receipt notice (Form I-797), for your immigrant visa petition.

If you are filing as a derivative applicant based on the principal applicant's immigrant visa petition, you may upload a copy of:

- The approval or receipt notice (Form I-797) the principal applicant received for Form I-485 (if applicable) or a copy of the principal applicant's Form I-551 (Green Card) (if applicable).

If you are unable to submit the required primary evidence (for example, a birth certificate or marriage certificate), you may provide secondary evidence (for example, church or school records) instead if you can explain why the primary evidence is unavailable. If you cannot submit secondary evidence, you may submit two or more affidavits, sworn to or affirmed by individuals who are not parties to the immigration benefit sought and who have direct personal knowledge of the event and circumstances. You must also explain why primary and secondary evidence are unavailable in accordance with 8 CFR 103.2(b)(2).

Form I-693

Aliens electronically filing their I-485 application package, must open the sealed envelope from the Civil Surgeon and upload the completed Form I-693. USCIS Officers will use the uploaded version of the original Form I-693 from the alien to determine eligibility. Applicants must maintain the original Form I-693 and envelope until a final decision is made on the associated Form I-485. USCIS Officers have the option to review it during the interview or upon request.

Upload the Form I-693, Report of Immigration Medical Examination and Vaccination Record, you received from your civil surgeon to establish that you are not inadmissible to the United States on health-related grounds.

Applicants for adjustment of status are generally required to complete an immigration medical examination and submit a properly completed Form I-693 signed by a civil surgeon to show that they are free from health conditions that would render them inadmissible under the health-related grounds. If you are required to submit a Form I-693, or a partial Form I-693 (such as the Vaccination Record), you must submit it with your Form I-485.

Note: Even if you received a full immigration medical examination abroad, if the results reveal a Class A medical condition, you will be required to complete a new immigration medical examination and submit a new or updated Form I-693 with your Form I-485.

Additionally, if there is reason to believe your medical condition has changed since your last immigration medical examination, that any report of medical examination does not accurately reflect your medical condition, or if there is reason to believe you otherwise may be inadmissible under the health-related grounds, you may be required to complete a new immigration medical examination and submit a new or updated Form I-693.

Information About Any Of Your Arrests

If you were EVER arrested or detained by a law enforcement officer for any reason anywhere in the world, including the United States, and no criminal charges were filed, you must upload:

- An original or certified copy of the complete arrest report; and
- Either an official statement by the arresting or detaining agency or prosecutor's office OR an applicable court order that indicates the final disposition of your arrest or detention.

You must disclose all arrests and charges, even if the arrest occurred when you were a minor. An adjudication of juvenile delinquency is not a "conviction" under U.S. immigration law, but a juvenile can be charged as an adult for an offense committed while a juvenile. If you were convicted as an adult, there is a conviction, regardless of whether you were tried before a criminal court or a juvenile court. An adjudication of juvenile delinquency could also be relevant to the exercise of discretion. If you claim that an arrest resulted in adjudication of delinquency, and not in a conviction, you must submit a copy of the court document that establishes this fact.

In general, you do not need to submit documentation relating to traffic fines and incidents that did not involve an actual physical arrest if the penalty was only a fine of less than $500 or resulted in points on your driver's license. However, you must submit such documentation if the traffic incident resulted in criminal charges or involved alcohol, drugs, or injury to a person or property.

Note: If you are not able to obtain certified copies of any court disposition relating to the arrest, upload all three items below:

- A written explanation on government letterhead from the custodian of the documents of why the documents are not available, unless the documents are generally unavailable from the custodian of the document;
- A written statement from the applicant that explains why the record is not available and describes the criminal charge, arrest, or conviction; the final outcome or disposition; and any rehabilitation completed (including, but not limited to, compliance with court-mandated conditions (such as parole, probation, counseling, or payments), not violating any laws, and making an effort to positively contribute to your community since your last arrest or conviction); and
- Any other secondary evidence that shows the disposition of the criminal case; or if secondary evidence is also not available, one or more written statements, signed under penalty of perjury under 28 U.S.C. section 1746 by someone other than the applicant, who has direct personal knowledge of the disposition of the criminal case.

If you are unable to submit the required primary evidence (for example, a birth certificate or marriage certificate), you may provide secondary evidence (for example, church or school records) instead if you can explain why the primary evidence is unavailable. If you cannot submit secondary evidence, you may submit two or more affidavits, sworn to or affirmed by individuals who are not parties to the immigration benefit sought and who have direct personal knowledge of the event and circumstances. You must also explain why primary and secondary evidence are unavailable in accordance with 8 CFR 103.2(b)(2).

You must disclose all arrests and charges, even if the arrest occurred when you were a minor. An adjudication of juvenile delinquency is not a "conviction" under U.S. immigration law, but a juvenile can be charged as an adult for an offense committed while a juvenile. - Any other secondary evidence that shows the disposition of the criminal case; or if secondary evidence is also not available, one or more written statements, signed under penalty of perjury under 28 U.S.C. section 1746 by someone other than the applicant, who has direct personal knowledge of the disposition of the criminal case.

Waiver Of Inadmissibility

Upload an image of your Waiver of Inadmissibility.

If USCIS (or the Immigration Judge, if you are in exclusion, deportation, or removal proceedings) determines you are inadmissible to the United States based on one or more grounds of inadmissibility outlined in INA section 212(a), you cannot adjust status unless you apply for and are granted a waiver of inadmissibility or other form of relief. Whether or not a waiver or other form of relief is available depends on the grounds of inadmissibility that apply to you and the specific immigrant category you are applying under.

You can learn more about waivers and other forms of relief by reading the Instructions for Form I-601, Application for Waiver of Grounds of Inadmissibility, and Form I-212, Application for Permission to Reapply for Admission into the United States After Deportation or Removal.

Documentation Regarding J-1 Or J-2 Nonimmigrant Exchange Visitor Status

If you previously held or currently hold J-1 (principal) or J-2 (dependent) nonimmigrant exchange visitor status, you must upload copies of all relevant Forms IAP-66 and/or Forms DS-2019, Certificate of Eligibility for Exchange Visitor (J-1) Status, ever issued to you (if available). You must also upload copies of all available J-1 or J-2 nonimmigrant visas issued to you, and copies of all available Form I-94, Arrival/Departure records and passport pages with entry stamps showing your admission to the United States in J-1 or J-2 status.

In addition, if your J status made you subject to the two-year foreign residence requirement of INA section 212(e), you must upload documentation to show that you complied with the foreign residence requirement, have been granted a waiver of the requirement before filing Form I-485, or were issued a favorable waiver recommendation letter from DOS before filing Form I-485. You can show you complied with the requirement by uploading evidence to prove you resided in the appropriate home country for at least two years since your exchange visitor program ended. Visit our Form I-612 page for information about a waiver of the requirement.
