Communications Act of 1934, as amended, 47 U.S.C. 151, 154(i), 154(j), 201–255, 303(r), 403, 413, and the Cable Landing License Act of 1921, 47 U.S.C. 34–39, and Executive Order No. 10530, Section 5(a) (May 12, 1954) reprinted as amended in 3 U.S.C. 301.

Total Annual Burden: 2,360 hours.

Total Annual Cost: $35,400.

Needs and Uses: The Federal Communications Commission (Commission) is requesting that the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) approve a new one-time information collection applicable to all submarine cable landing licensees as adopted in the Submarine Cable First Report and Order, FCC 25–49. The Submarine Cable First Report and Order modernized the Commission's submarine cable rules to facilitate infrastructure deployment, while strengthening national security. Pursuant to the Cable Landing License Act and Executive Order 10530, the Commission holds broad legal authority to regulate submarine cables that connect to the United States. Under section 35 of title 47, the Commission has legal authority to withhold or revoke a license if such action will ''promote the security of the United States.''

The Submarine Cable First Report and Order was the first major review of the Commission's submarine cable rules since 2001, and updated rules and procedures to streamline and improve the timeliness and transparency of its submarine cable licensing process. The Commission also modernized the definition of submarine cable system to include Submarine Line Terminal Equipment (SLTE) as part of the cable system and adopted common sense measures to presumptively preclude foreign adversaries and other entities from accessing the nation's communications networks. The updates will provide greater certainty for applicants, while making targeted improvements to address national security threats.

In line with the Commission's modernization efforts, the Submarine Cable First Report and Order adopted a one-time information collection to obtain information on how many entities currently own or operate SLTE on existing licensed cable systems. The one-time information collection will further inform the Commission about the identities of SLTE owners and operators and their role in operating a portion of the submarine cable system. The one-time collection will also assess for insolvent cables or licensees and require licensees to disclose whether or not their submarine cable systems use equipment or services identified on the Commission's Covered List, uses a third-party foreign adversary service provider, or uses a third-party service provider that can access the submarine cable system from a foreign adversary country.

Federal Communications Commission.
