

Keep the requirement of labeling. If it is a burden on retailers, shift the cost to the producer of the fuel, and have them pay for the labels. Consumers need to know what they are getting.