I recommend we scale back wildland fire fighting. WE waste lots of money on fire fighting and risk lives doing it. We should let it burn and wait for weather put it out. People who build in fire zones know the risks and must accept the consequences. In fire zones the buildings should be small and easily replaceable. Zoning restrictions should be made to prevent buildings and towns in fire hazard zones. Fire suppression is making it worse and fuels just build up. More restrictions and regulation on developers and realtors are necessary.
