General Comment

I respectfully request additional clarification and safeguards regarding several of the Social Security Administration's proposed information collection revisions. My primary concerns involve the following: 1 Data Exchange Request Form (SSA-157): Please explain what categories of Social Security information may be shared with private organizations, foreign governments, and other entities; what restrictions prevent secondary use or unauthorized disclosure; and what auditing and accountability measures protect individuals from inaccurate data matching.

Additionally, I request that SSA publish the actual revised forms, supporting statements, and a comparison identifying all material changes from the previously approved versions. The public should be able to understand exactly what information is being collected, why it is necessary, how it will be used, and what protections exist against misuse.

I support legitimate efforts to improve Social Security administration and service delivery. However, those efforts should not come at the expense of beneficiary privacy, accessibility, due process, or the ability of eligible individuals to obtain their benefits.
