I-192, Application for Advance Permission to Enter as a Nonimmigrant

Before You Start Your Application Or Petition

Eligibility

Who May File Form I-192

File Form I-192 if you are an inadmissible foreign national in one of the following categories:

1. Applicant for principal or derivative T nonimmigrant status (Form I-914 or I-914, Supplement A);

2. Petitioner for principal or derivative U nonimmigrant status (Form I-918 or I-918, Supplement A); or

3. Inadmissible nonimmigrant already possessing appropriate documents.

NOTE: If you are seeking T nonimmigrant status or U nonimmigrant status, and you are only inadmissible under INA section 212(a)(4) (public charge), you do NOT need to file this application because you are exempt from this ground of inadmissibility.

NOTE: If you need a visa to come to the United States as a nonimmigrant (other than as a T or U nonimmigrant) do not file this application. You should contact the appropriate U.S. Embassy or U.S. Consulate if you have any questions regarding your eligibility for waiver of inadmissibility in connection with an application for a nonimmigrant visa.

Fee

See Form G-1055, available at www.uscis.gov/forms, for specific information about the fees applicable to this form.

Documents you may need

We will automatically determine which documents you should provide us as you fill out your petition. At the time of filing, you must submit all evidence and supporting documentation listed.

Biometrics services appointment

We recommend that you review your copy of your completed application before you go to your biometric services appointment at a USCIS ASC.

At your appointment, USCIS will permit you to complete the application process only if you are able to confirm, under penalty of perjury, that all of the information in your application is complete, true, and correct. If you are not able to make that attestation in good faith at that time, USCIS will require you to return for another appointment.

After You Submit Your Application, Petition, or Request

Track your case online

After you submit your form, you can track its status through your USCIS account. Sign into your account often to check your case status and read any important messages from USCIS.

Respond to requests for information

If we need more information from you, we will send you a Request for Evidence (RFE) or Request for Information (RFI). You can respond to our request and upload your documents through your USCIS account.

Provide your biometrics

We will contact the beneficiary to schedule an appointment at an Application Support Center near them, if applicable. At the appointment, we will get their fingerprints, photograph, and signature.

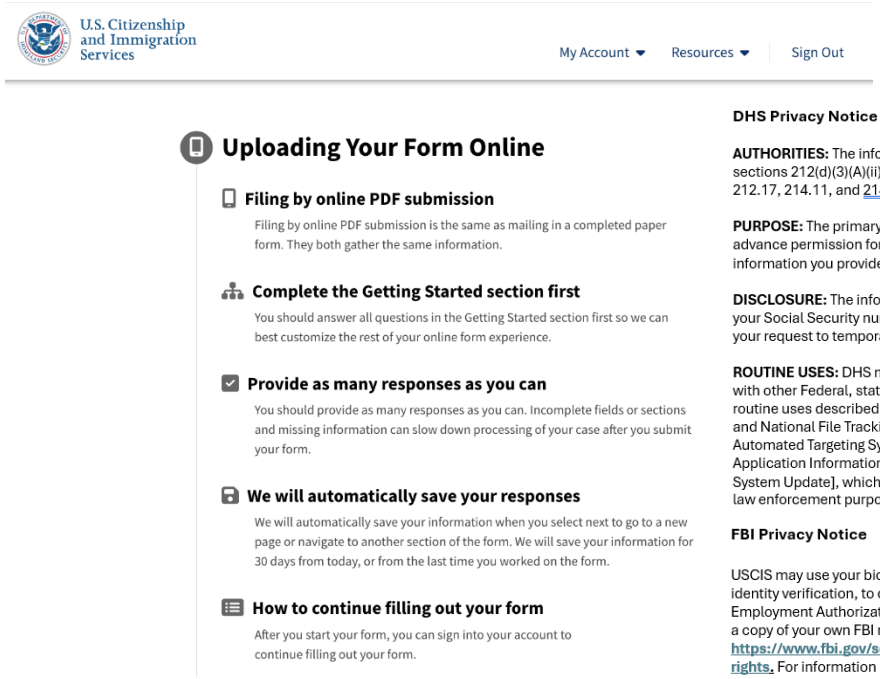

Receive your decision

The decision on Form I-192 involves a determination of whether you have established eligibility for the immigration benefit you are seeking. USCIS will notify you of the decision in writing.
