I-485, Application To Register Permanent Residence Or Adjust Status

This form is used for a person in the United States to apply for lawful permanent resident status (often referred to as a "Green Card").

Filing requirements: You cannot file this form for another family member or beneficiary from your USCIS online account. Each beneficiary must file the form from their own account.

Online Filings PDFi and Guided E-filing: Aliens electronically filing their I-485 application package, must open the sealed envelope from the Civil Surgeon and upload the completed Form I-693. USCIS Officers will use the uploaded version of the original Form I-693 from the alien to determine eligibility. Applicants must maintain the original Form I-693 and envelope until a final decision is made on the associated Form I-485. USCIS Officers have the option to review it during the interview or upon request.

By-mail filings: Applicants must include the untampered, original sealed Form I-693 envelope in their application package.

Concurrent filing available

You can file Form I-485 with one of these eligible forms:

- Supplement A to Form I-485, Adjustment of Status Under Section 245(i).

Overview

An official website of the United States government. Here's how you know

I-485, Application To Register Permanent Residence Or Adjust Status

Form I-485, Application to Register Permanent Residence or Adjust Status, is for a person in the United States to apply for lawful permanent resident status (often referred to as a "Green Card").

You can only file online for certain eligibility categories
USCIS supports Form I-485 online filing for adjustment of status if you qualify under the family-based immigrant category. If you are eligible under another category, you must file a paper Form I-485. Learn more about eligibility categories.

1 Before You Start Your Application

Eligibility

You must be physically present in the United States to file this application. Additional eligibility requirements for adjustment of status may vary depending on the immigrant category in which you are applying. Learn more about adjustment of status eligibility categories.

You may apply as the person who directly qualifies for an immigrant category ("principal applicant") or, in some cases, as the spouse or the child of a principal applicant ("derivative applicant"). Whether you are a principal or derivative applicant, you must file your own Form I-485.

Under U.S. immigration law, you are a "child" if you are unmarried, under 21 years of age, and meet the definition of "child" found in the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA) and USCIS policy guidance. You may still be considered a child for immigration purposes even after turning 21 years of age if you qualify under the provisions of the Child Status Protection Act (CSPA) or other applicable provisions. Learn more about the CSPA.

Who May Not Be Eligible to Adjust Status?

Bars to Adjustment of Status
You are generally ineligible for adjustment of status under INA section 245(a) if one or more adjustment bars in the INA apply to you. See INA sections 245(a), (c), (d), and/or (e).

Exception Under INA section 245(i)
You may be able to adjust status under INA section 245(i) even if you are present in the United States without inspection and admission or parole, or are subject to one or more adjustment bars at INA section 245(c). Learn more about adjusting status under INA section 245(i). INA section 245(i) is not an immigrant category. In order to adjust status using INA section 245(i), you must be eligible for an immigrant visa under a family-based, employment-based, special immigrant, or Diversity Visa category.

Grounds of inadmissibility
Immigration laws specify acts, conditions, and conduct that can make aliens ineligible for lawful permanent resident status. These acts, conditions, and conduct are outlined in INA section 212(a) and are called grounds of inadmissibility. For more information on the grounds of inadmissibility for specific immigrant categories, visit our USCIS Policy Manual page. If you are inadmissible, you may be eligible for a waiver of the ground of inadmissibility or another form of relief. If we approve your waiver application or grant another form of relief, USCIS may approve your application to adjust status, if you are otherwise eligible.

When Should I File Form I-485?

Principal Applicant
In general, if you are filing as a beneficiary of an immigrant visa petition (such as Form I-130, Petition for Alien Relative, Form I-140, Immigrant Petition for Alien Workers, or Form I-360, Petition for Amerasian, Widow(er), or Special Immigrant), you may file an adjustment application only after USCIS has approved your petition and an immigrant visa number is immediately available. There are, however, some immigrant categories that allow you to file Form I-485 before USCIS approves your petition (this is known as "concurrent filing"), provided that approval of the petition would make an immigrant visa number immediately available to you and you meet all other filing and eligibility requirements. Learn more about concurrent filing.

If you want to learn more about visas, you can visit our USCIS page for information on visa availability, or you can visit the Department of State (DOS) page to view the Visa Bulletin.

Derivative Adjustment Applicant
If you are currently the spouse or child of a principal applicant, you may file Form I-485 if an immigrant visa is immediately available to you and you meet all filing requirements. You may file at any of the following times:

- At the same time the principal applicant files Form I-485;
- After the principal applicant filed a Form I-485 that remains pending a final decision by USCIS;
- After USCIS approves the principal applicant's Form I-485, if the principal applicant is still a lawful permanent resident and if, at the time of the principal applicant's Form I-485 approval, you were the principal applicant's spouse or child; or
- After the principal applicant obtained an immigrant visa and entered the United States as a lawful permanent resident if the principal applicant is still a lawful permanent resident and, at the time of the principal applicant's entry, you were the principal applicant's spouse or child.

Generally, USCIS cannot approve your Form I-485 as a derivative applicant until the principal applicant obtains lawful permanent resident status. USCIS may approve an adjustment application for a U nonimmigrant, asylee, or refugee derivative before the principal applicant obtains lawful permanent resident status.

Form G-325A, Biographic Information
Form G-325A is no longer required. You do not need to submit a separate Form G-325A with this Form I-485.

Family-based applicants

Immediate Relative of a U.S. Citizen (Spouses, Unmarried Children Under 21 Years of Age, and Parents (if the U.S. Citizen is 21 Years of Age or Older)) (Form I-130)

If you are an immediate relative, you may file your Form I-485 together with your Form I-130, while Form I-130 is pending, or after your Form I-130 is approved.

If the petitioning relative (your spouse, your son/daughter/or parent) became a U.S. citizen after filing Form I-130 on your behalf, submit evidence of the petitioning relative's U.S. citizenship with your Form I-485. Visit our Checklist of Required Initial Evidence for Form I-485 page for information on required initial evidence for Form I-485 for immediate relatives.

Note: Derivative applicants are not allowed in this category.

Other Relative of a U.S. Citizen or Relative of a Lawful Permanent Resident Under the Family-Based Preference Categories (Form I-130)

Family-based preference categories include:

- Unmarried sons and daughters (21 years of age and older) of U.S. citizens;
- Spouses;
- Unmarried children (under 21 years of age) and unmarried sons and daughters (21 years of age and older) of lawful permanent residents;
- Married sons and daughters of U.S. citizens; and
- Brothers and sisters of U.S. citizens (if the U.S. citizen is 21 years of age or older).

If an immigrant visa is immediately available, you may file your Form I-485 together with your Form I-130, while Form I-130 is pending, or after your Form I-130 is approved. Otherwise, you may file your Form I-485 only after your Form I-130 is approved and an immigrant visa is immediately available.

If the spouse or parent who filed the Form I-130 on your behalf becomes a U.S. citizen while your Form I-485 is pending, submit evidence of the spouse or parent's U.S. citizenship to the USCIS office with jurisdiction over your application.

If you are an unmarried son or daughter and your parent became a U.S. citizen after filing Form I-130 on your behalf, you normally would automatically convert to an immigrant preference category as an unmarried son or daughter of a U.S. citizen. However, you may opt out of the automatic conversion and stay in the immigrant preference category as an unmarried son or daughter of a lawful permanent resident. Visit our Child Status Protection Act (CSPA) page for more information on opting out of the automatic conversion.

Visit our Checklist of Required Initial Evidence for Form I-485 page for information on required initial evidence for Form I-485 for family-based preference category applicants.

Person Admitted to the United States as a Fiancé(e) or Child of a Fiancé(e) of a U.S. Citizen (Form I-129F) (K-1/K-2 Nonimmigrant)

K-1 principals who marry their U.S. citizen I-129F petitioners within the requisite 90-day period after admission to the United States in K-1 status, and principal K-2 children always have an immigrant visa immediately available, and therefore, can file Form I-485 as soon as the K-1 principal has married the U.S. citizen.

You must submit a copy of the marriage certificate to show that the K-1 nonimmigrant fiancé(e) married the U.S. citizen (Form I-129F petitioner) in the 90-day period. This additional requirement applies to both K-1 principal and K-2 derivative applicants.

Widow or Widower of a U.S. Citizen

If you are the widow(er) of a deceased individual who was a U.S. citizen at the time of death, you may be eligible to file Form I-485.

If your U.S. citizen spouse did not file Form I-130 for you before their death, you may file Form I-360, Petition for Amerasian, Widow(er), or Special Immigrant, as long as you file Form I-360 no more than two years after the date your spouse died. You may file your Form I-485 together with your Form I-360, while your Form I-360 is pending, or after your Form I-360 is approved. Widow(er)s always have an immigrant visa immediately available once Form I-360 is approved.

Your U.S. citizen spouse may have filed Form I-130 for you before their death. In this case, you may file Form I-485 while Form I-130 is pending or after it is approved. If Form I-130 is approved, it will be considered an approved Form I-360.

When filing your Form I-485, you should provide a copy of the Form I-797, Approval Notice or Receipt for the Form I-130 filed on your behalf or the Form I-360 you filed (unless you are filing Form I-360 together with your Form I-485).

If You Leave the United States While Your Application Is Pending

If you are applying for adjustment of status under INA section 245, and you travel anywhere outside the United States (including brief visits to Canada or Mexico) while your application is pending, USCIS will consider your application as abandoned unless:

- Before you leave the United States, you obtain an Advance Parole Document by filing Form I-131, you depart and return to a Port of Entry, and are inspected and admitted or paroled upon your return;
- You are an H-1B/H-4, L, V, or K3/K4 nonimmigrant who is maintaining lawful nonimmigrant status and you return with a valid H-1B/H-4, L, V, or K3/K4 nonimmigrant visa (if required); or
- You are a temporary protected status (TPS) beneficiary who travels with authorization under INA section 244(f)(3) and upon returning, you are inspected and admitted into TPS.

Penalties

If you knowingly and willfully falsify or conceal a material fact or submit a false document with your Form I-485, we will deny your Form I-485 and may deny any other immigration benefit. In addition, you will face severe penalties provided by law and may be subject to criminal prosecution.

Fee

We will automatically calculate the cost for you before you submit your application. For specific information about fees applicable to this form, see Form G-1055.

Fee waiver: If the form you want to file is eligible for a fee waiver, and you would like to request one, you must file by paper. If you are requesting a fee waiver, you cannot file online. You must file a paper version of both the Form I-912, Request for Fee Waiver and the form for the specific benefit you are requesting. You can review the fee waiver guidance at www.uscis.gov/feewaiver.

Refund policy: USCIS does not refund fees, regardless of any action we take on your application, petition, or request, or how long USCIS takes to reach a decision. By continuing this transaction, you acknowledge that you must submit fees in the exact amount and that you are paying the fees for a government service. Please refer to the instructions for the form(s) you are filing for additional information, or you may call the USCIS Contact Center at 800-375-5283. For TTY (deaf or hard of hearing) 800-767-1833.

Documents you may need

We will automatically determine which documents you should provide us as you fill out your application. At the time of filing, you must submit all evidence and supporting documentation listed.

You must submit all evidence requested in these instructions with your application. If you fail to submit required evidence, USCIS may reject or deny your application in accordance with 8 CFR 103.2(b)(1).

If you are unable to submit the required primary evidence (for example, a birth certificate or marriage certificate), you may provide secondary evidence (for example, church or school records) instead if you can explain why the primary evidence is unavailable. If you cannot submit secondary evidence, you may submit two or more affidavits, sworn to or affirmed by persons who are not parties to the immigration benefit sought and who have direct personal knowledge of the event and circumstances. You must also explain why primary and secondary evidence are unavailable in accordance with 8 CFR 103.2(b)(2).

Biometric services appointment

USCIS may require you to appear for an interview or provide biometrics (fingerprints, photograph, and/or signature) at any time to verify your identity, obtain additional information, and conduct background and security checks, including a check of criminal history records maintained by the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), before making a decision on your application or petition. If we determine that a biometric services appointment is necessary, we will send you an appointment notice with the date, time, and location of your appointment. If you are currently overseas, your notice will instruct you to contact a U.S. Embassy, U.S. Consulate, or USCIS office outside the United States to schedule an appointment.

At your biometrics appointment, you must sign an oath reaffirming that:

1. You provided or authorized all information in the application;
2. You reviewed and understood all of the information contained in, and submitted with, your application; and
3. All of this information was complete, true, and correct at the time of filing.

If you do not attend your biometric services appointment, we may deny your application.

For applicants and dependents who appear before an immigration judge, failure to attend a biometric services appointment, without good cause, may result in the immigration judge finding that your application was abandoned, and USCIS may also deny any other application you filed with USCIS.

Disability Accommodations/Modifications

To request a disability accommodation/modification, follow the instructions on your appointment notice or on the Disability Accommodations for the Public page.

Selective Service

Most males between 18 and 26 years of age are required by the Military Selective Service Act to register with the Selective Service System. Learn more on our Selective Service System page. If USCIS approves your application, we will send your name, current address, Social Security number, date of birth, and the date you filed the application to the Selective Service System for registration.

USCIS Contact Center

For additional information on the application and instructions about where to file, change of address, and other questions, visit the USCIS Contact Center page or call at 800-375-5283 (TTY 800-767-1833). The USCIS Contact Center provides information in English and Spanish.

Address Change

You must notify USCIS any time you change your mailing address or your physical address. You must notify us no later than 10 days after making such change. For information on changing your address, visit our change of address page, or call the USCIS Contact Center.

If you are already in proceedings in Immigration Court, you must also notify the Immigration Court on Form EOIR-33/IC, Change of Address/Contact Information Form, of any changes of address within five days of the change in address. The Form EOIR-33/IC is available on the EOIR website or can be filed online at EOIR's Respondent Access.

Note: Do not submit a change of address request to the USCIS Lockbox.

2 After You Submit Your Application

Track your case online

After you submit your form, you can track its status through your USCIS account. Sign in to your account often to check your case status and read any important messages from USCIS.

Respond to requests for information

If we need more information from you, we will send you a Request for Evidence (RFE) or Request for Information (RFI). You can respond to our request and upload your documents through your USCIS account.

Requests for interview

We may request that you appear at a USCIS office for an interview based on your application. During your interview, USCIS may require you to provide your biometrics to verify your identity and/or update background and security checks.

Receive your decision

The decision on Form I-485 involves a determination of whether you have established eligibility for the immigration benefit you are seeking. USCIS or the Immigration Court will notify you of the decision in writing.

SSA Privacy Act Statement

Sections 205(c) and 702 of the Social Security Act authorizes SSA to collect information to assign you an SSN and issue a Social Security card. The information you furnish on this application is voluntary. However, failure to provide the requested information may prevent SSA from issuing you an SSN and Social Security card. SSA will maintain the information used to assign you an SSN and issue you a Social Security card in SSA's system of records [Master Files of Social Security Number (SSN) Holders and SSN Applications, 60-0058]. Complete lists of approved routine uses for the information used to assign you an SSN and issue you a Social Security card are available in the System of Records Notice 60-0058, available at www.ssa.gov.

FBI Privacy Notice

USCIS may use your biometrics to obtain the criminal history records of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), for identity verification, to determine eligibility, to create immigration documents (for example, Permanent Resident Card, Employment Authorization Document), or any purpose authorized by the INA. You may obtain a copy of your own FBI record using the procedures outlined at 28 CFR 16.30-16.34. For more information, please visit the FBI Noncriminal Justice Applicant's Privacy Rights page. For information regarding how the FBI will use your fingerprints, please visit the Privacy Act Statement page.

DHS Privacy Notice

AUTHORITIES: USCIS is collecting the information requested on this application, and the associated evidence, under INA section 245.

PURPOSE: The primary purpose for providing the requested information on this application is to apply to adjust your status to that of a lawful permanent resident of the United States or register permanent residence. DHS will use the information you provide to grant or deny the immigration benefit you are seeking.

DISCLOSURE: The information you provide is voluntary. However, failure to provide the requested information, including your Social Security number (if applicable), and any requested evidence, may delay a final decision or result in denial of your application.

ROUTINE USES: DHS may share the information you provide on this application, and any additional requested evidence, with other Federal, state, local, and foreign government agencies and authorized organizations. DHS follows approved routine uses, as described in the associated published system of records notices [DHS/USCIS/ICE/CBP-001 Alien File, Index, and National File Tracking System of Records, DHS/USCIS-007 Benefits Information System, and DHS/USCIS-018 Immigration Biometric and Background Check] and the published privacy impact assessments [DHS/USCIS/PIA-016(a) Computer Linked Application Information Management System], which can be found at www.dhs.gov/privacy. DHS may also share the information, as appropriate, for law enforcement purposes or in the interest of national security.

Paperwork Reduction Act

An agency may not conduct or sponsor information collection and a person is not required to respond to a collection of information unless it displays a currently valid OMB control number. The public reporting burden for this collection of information is estimated at 12.49 hours per response, including the time for reviewing instructions, gathering the required documentation and information, completing the application, preparing statements, attaching necessary documentation, and submitting the application. The collection of the biometrics is estimated to require 1 hour and 10 minutes. Send comments regarding this burden estimate or any other aspect of this collection of information, including suggestions for reducing this burden, to:

If your immigrant category does not appear on the current dropdown list, you must file a paper Form I-485 at this time.

Family-based

What specific family-based category? *

- ○ Immediate relative of a U.S. citizen, Form I-130, I-129F, or I-360

  Immediate relatives include a/an:
  - Spouse of a U.S. citizen;
  - Unmarried child under the age of 21 of a U.S. citizen;
  - Parent of a U.S. citizen who is at least 21 years old;
  - Person admitted to the United States as a fiancé(e) or child of a fiancé(e) of a U.S. citizen (K-1/K-2 Nonimmigrant);
  - Widow or widower of a U.S. citizen; or
  - Spouse, child, or parent of a deceased U.S. active-duty service member in the armed forces under the National Defense Authorization Act (NDAA).

- ◉ Other relative of a U.S. citizen under the family-based preference categories, Form I-130

  Other relatives of a U.S. citizen include a/an:
  - Unmarried son or daughter of a U.S. citizen and I am 21 years of age or older;
  - Married son or daughter of a U.S. citizen; or
  - Brother or sister of a U.S. citizen (if the citizen is at least 21 years of age).

- ○ Relative of a lawful permanent resident under the family-based preference categories, Form I-130

  Relatives of a lawful permanent resident include a/an:

- ○ Married son or daughter of a U.S. citizen
- ○ Brother or sister of a U.S. citizen (if the citizen is at least 21 years of age)

What is the receipt number of the underlying petition?

In order to file a Form I-485 on myUSCIS, you must have an underlying petition (I-130, I-129F, or I-360) filed with USCIS. Depending on your immigrant category, you may be able to file your I-485 while your petition is pending. A valid receipt number of an underlying petition is required to file a Form I-485 online.

☐ I do not have or know the receipt number of the underlying petition.

Provide a 13-character receipt number, beginning with 3 capitalized letters followed by 10 digits.

What is the priority date from the underlying petition?

For family-sponsored immigrants, the priority date is the date that the Form I-130, Petition for Alien Relative, is properly filed with USCIS. If you are a prospective immigrant, you can find your priority date on Form I-797, Notice of Action, for the petition filed on your behalf.

☐ I do not have a priority date for my underlying petition.

What is your country of birth?

What is the principal applicant's name?

Their current legal name is the name on their birth certificate, unless it changed after birth by a legal action such as marriage or court order. Do not provide any nicknames here.

Given name (first name) *

Middle name

Family name (last name) *

What is the principal applicant's A-Number? *

The A-Number is an immigration file number provided by U.S. immigration officials. We use your A-Number to identify your immigration records. It is a 7 to 9-digit number that begins with an “A” and can be found on correspondence or cards you have received from DHS, USCIS, or on immigration court records (for example, Form I-797, Receipt Notice; an Employment Authorization Document; a Permanent Resident Card). If you do not have an A-Number, USCIS may assign one to you.

☐ I do not have or know their A-Number.

Provide a 7, 8, or 9-digit number. If the A-Number is fewer than 9 digits, the system will automatically add zero(s) after the "A" and before the first digit so there is a total of 9 digits, for example: A-001234567.

Are you applying for adjustment based on INA section 245(i)?

You are generally ineligible for adjustment of status under INA section 245(a) if one or more adjustment bars in the INA apply to you. If you are applying for adjustment based on INA section 245(i) you must file Form I-485 Supplement A with Form I-485, Adjustment of Status Under Section 245(i).

Exception Under INA section 245(i): You may be able to adjust status under INA section 245(i) even if you are present in the United States without inspection and admission or parole, or are subject to one or more adjustment bars at INA section 245(c).

Have you had or used a social media account in the past 5 years?

Department of Homeland Security defines social media as the sphere of websites, applications, and web-based tools that connect users to engage in dialogue, share information and media, collaborate, and interact. Social media take many different forms, including web-based communities and hosted services, social networking sites, video and photo sharing sites, blogs, virtual worlds, social bookmarking, broadcast/push text messaging services, and other emerging technologies.

- (●) Yes, I have had or used a social media account in the past 5 years.
- ( ) No, I have not had or used a social media account in the past 5 years.

What is the total number of social media accounts you have had or used?

Your social media information

Provide all social media handles, identifiers, or usernames used on social media over the past 5 years. Your response should include both active social media accounts and inactive or deleted accounts. For each identifier/username/handle/aliases/other on-line personas, provide the associated social media platform. If the social media platform does not use a handle, provide the relevant associated identifiable information used to access the platform (for example, email, phone number). For each social media account you listed, indicate whether it is personal, business, or organization (for example, university alumni, hobby group or club, etc.) account.

Note: USCIS will not use social media handle information to communicate with the applicant/beneficiary. USCIS will not “friend” or “follow” or take similar action on social media, any applicants/beneficiaries or individuals on whose behalf the application is being filed.

Do you have an Alien Registration Number (A-Number)?

- (●) Yes
- ( ) No

What is your A-Number?

The A-Number is an immigration file number provided by U.S. immigration officials. We use your A-Number to identify your immigration records. It is a 7 to 9-digit number that begins with an “A” and can be found on correspondence or cards you have received from DHS, USCIS, or on immigration court records (for example, Form I-797, Receipt Notice; an Employment Authorization Document; a Permanent Resident Card). If you do not have an A-Number, USCIS may assign one to you.

Provide a 7, 8, or 9-digit number. If the A-Number is fewer than 9 digits, the system will automatically add zero(s) after the "A" and before the first digit so there is a total of 9 digits, for example: A-001234567.

A-

Have you ever used, or been assigned, any other A-Number?

Provide all of your other A-Numbers.

- (●) Yes
- ( ) No

Provide a 7, 8, or 9-digit number. If the A-Number is fewer than 9 digits, the system will automatically add zero(s) after the "A" and before the first digit so there is a total of 9 digits, for example: A-001234567.

+ Add A-Number

What is your USCIS Online Account Number?

You will only have an Online Account Number, or OAN, if you previously filed a form that has a receipt number that begins with IOE. If you filed the form online, you can find your OAN in your account profile. If you mailed us the form, you can find your OAN at the top of the Account Access Notice we sent you.

If you do not have a receipt number that begins with IOE, you do not have an OAN.

(The OAN is not the same as an A-Number.)

- [x] I do not have or know my USCIS Online Account Number.

Provide a 12-digit Online Account Number.

Has the Social Security Administration (SSA) ever officially issued a Social Security card to you?

- (●) Yes
- ( ) No

What is your U.S. Social Security number (SSN)?

- [x] I do not have or know my U.S. Social Security number.

Provide a 9-digit Social Security number.

Do you want the SSA to issue you a Social Security card?

- (●) Yes
- ( ) No

You are not required to request an SSN using this application. However, you must have an SSN properly assigned in your name to work in the United States.

If your employer uses E-Verify to confirm new employees' eligibility to legally work in the United States, the information you provide on Form I-9, Employment Eligibility Verification, will be compared to data available to the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) and SSA. Employees must have an SSN in order for E-Verify to confirm their eligibility to legally work in the United States.

Note: USCIS will not share information with SSA if a Form I-485 is subject to Public Law 106-553, as amended by the LIFE Act Amendments, Public Law 106-544 (December 21, 2000).

Do you authorize disclosure of information from this application to the SSA as required for the purpose of assigning you an SSN and issuing you a Social Security Card?

If you want the SSA to assign you an SSN and issue you a Social Security card or issue you a new or replacement Social Security card, you must agree to the Consent for Disclosure.

- ( ) Yes
- ( ) No

What is your child's A-Number?

The A-Number is an immigration file number provided by U.S. immigration officials. We use your A-Number to identify your immigration records. It is a 7 to 9-digit number that begins with an "A" and can be found on correspondence or cards you have received from DHS, USCIS, or on immigration court records (for example, Form I-797, Receipt Notice; an Employment Authorization Document; a Permanent Resident Card). If you do not have an A-Number, USCIS may assign one to you.

☑ I do not have or know my child's A-Number.

Provide a 7, 8, or 9-digit number. If the A-Number is fewer than 9 digits, the system will automatically add zero(s) after the "A" and before the first digit so there is a total of 9 digits, for example: A-001234567.

What is your child's U.S. Social Security number (SSN)?

☑ I do not have or know my child's U.S. Social Security number.

Provide a 9-digit Social Security number.

What is your child's relationship to you?

For example: biological child, stepchild, legally adopted child.

Is this child also applying now on a separate Form I-485?

○ Yes

○ No
